Credit curbs, gasoline cost hike ordered

Life in the "brave new world" of the 1980s is going downhill and may continue to do so, President Jimmy Carter and his aides said Friday.

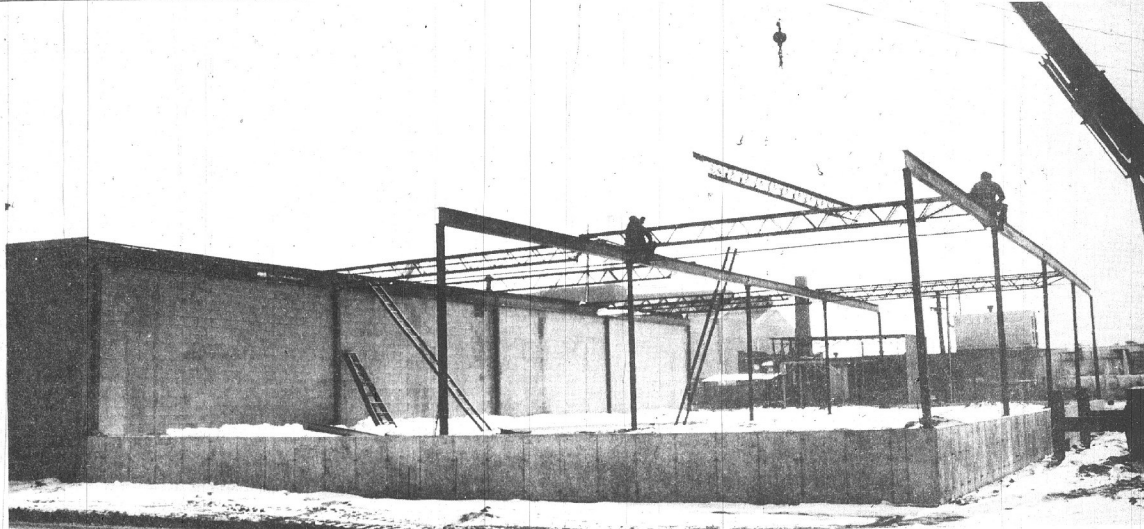

The president completely revised his proposed 1980-81 budget in an effort to balance it, and took several other steps in trying to fight inflation, including ordering a $4.62 fee on each barrel of imported oil. The latter action is expected to cause gasoline to cost 10 cents more a gallon effective May 15.

At Mr. Carter's request, the Federal Reserve Board announced indirect controls on credit cards held by 60 million Americans and on other consumer credit. Lenders are expected to "ration" credit and to issue fewer cards, to comply with the credit tightening orders.

The president called for intensified efforts to deregulate banking, trucking, railroads and the communications industry.

With wages and fringe benefits to be allowed to rise 7.5 to 9.5 percent this year, there will be more monitoring of voluntary pay and price guidelines.

And the budget balancing is expected to cause sharp cutbacks in revenue sharing to states, and in funds for welfare programs, mass transit, economic development, foreign aid, water projects, mental health, alcohol treatment, health, law enforcement, city parks, highways, space science and waste treatment.

STEEL BEAMS are set into place by workmen Friday morning on a $30,000 expansion at Edray Foods Inc., 1560 State St. The 5,000-square-foot addition is being built on the southwest side of the present structure. The added warehouse space will increase the company's inventory by about 20 percent. Ed Ray Dubish is owner of the company.

Judge, prosecutor, delegate voting Tuesday

By HARRY BARNES

of the Press-Record

An estimated 45,000 voters are expected to go to the polls Tuesday in this year's primary election in Madison County, with approximately 14,000 of that number casting ballots in the four townships of the Quad-City area.

County Clerk Evelyn Bowles, whose office is completing election preparations today, said she is expecting an estimated 36,000 Democrats and 9,000 Republicans to vote tomorrow in the county.

This would be an increase of about 8,000 votes over the 1978 primary balloting in which 32,366 Democratic and 4,634 Republican ballots were cast countywide.

Traditionally, about 37 percent of the total county vote is cast in Granite City, Nameoki, Venice and Chouteau townships.

Miss Bowles said spirited races for most offices on the Democratic ballot, including the presidential primary, are expected to turn out the heavier vote this year.

Seeking the presidential nomination on the Democratic ballot are President Jimmy Carter and U.S. Senator Edward Kennedy. Lyndon H. LaRouche Jr. and Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr.

Five candidates are bidding for nomination as U.S. senator—Alan J. Dixon, Anthony R. Martin-Trigona, Alex Seith, Robert Ash "Bob" Wallace and Dekin Williams.

There are 26 candidates seeking seven openings as 23rd Congressional district delegates to the national nominating convention, and six candidates for three alternate delegate posts.

Seeking delegate posts and the presidential candidates they prefer are Glenda K. Arnett (uncommitted), Mrs. Betty Jean Mays (Carter), Carolyn Chapman (Kennedy), Roy B. Hawkins (Kennedy), Elizabeth Morgan (Kennelly), Michael J. Stern (Kennedy), Betty Gerfen (Kennedy), Mable Dandridge (Kennedy), Sam Choniko (Kennedy).

Warning to pupils

Growing public concern over recent incidents in which men have attempted to get elementary school girls into their autos after school has caused numerous calls to Granite City police about suspicious vehicles and persons.

The public has responded well since an article appeared in Thursday's Press-Record on the attempted abduction of a 9-year-old girl from the front driveway of Frohardt School, Wednesday, a Granite City police officer commented Friday.

There have been two similar incidents since that offense, and parents are being urged to warn their children not to get into cars with strangers and to write down the license number of any car, if the driver offers them a ride.

"We have received several calls this morning about a green auto fitting the description of the one at Frohardt and we are checking them all out," the officer said Friday.

Thursday's article related that the 9-year-old girl had just left school when a man in a dark green late model car, possibly a Buick, stopped and the driver called the girl by name and told her that her father asked him to pick her up at school.

She refused to enter the car and the man left after getting gasoline at a nearby service station.

McCabe gains acquittal

Jerry Lee McCabe, 26, of the 3900 block of Central Lane, Mitchell, was found innocent of rape and armed violence charges by a jury in the Circuit Court Thursday afternoon.

After nearly a week of testimony, the jury deliberated four hours before announcing its verdict to Circuit Judge John L. DeLaurenti of Bond County.

McCabe was convicted in June 1978 of charges that he struck a 16-year-old Granite City girl on the head with a crowbar in the parking lot of Granite City High School South Feb. 27, 1978, and then dragged her to a car where she was raped.

He was sentenced Aug. 15, 1978, to serve 20 years in prison, but the Appellate Court one year later overturned the conviction on grounds that the prosecution had failed to provide the defense with documents related to another possible suspect in the area at the time of the rape.

McCabe remains on probation, authorities said, for a separate incident in which he allegedly approached a woman with a tire tool in his hand in Gaslight Walk, Pontoon Beach, March 9, 1978. He was charged with armed violence in that case, but pleaded guilty to attempted aggravated battery.

McCabe was remanded for a new trial, which was held last week in the Circuit Court at Edwardsville. At the new trial, defense attorneys repeatedly questioned the victim's ability to provide positive identification of her assailant.

He was sentenced to serve a concurrent prison term with the rape case, but the jail time was satisfied by the time he was in prison awaiting a ruling on his appeal, according to court records.

Warning sign for hazardous curve on Miracle Avenue

By RICK PEARSON

A Nameoki Township resident told the town board last week he is "getting the run-around" on his problem of people sideswiping vehicles parked in front of his home.

Norman Jones, 2352 Miracle Ave., told the board his truck had been sideswiped earlier that day, and that it was the seventh time one of his vehicles had been struck while parked in front of the house.

"The thing that burns me is the aggravation of having my vehicles being torn up...by speeding kids," Jones said.

His home is located on a curve in Miracle Avenue, and he said vehicles traveling at high speed often fail to make the curve, and end up in his yard.

He told the board he has repeatedly asked for a sign showing the curve, but that those requests have been turned down by the past two township highway commissioners.

"I am getting the run-around and I am fed up with it," Jones told the board. He said he is not only concerned over the fact that his own vehicles have been struck, but that there are a number of small children in the area. "It's just a matter of time before one of these kids gets hit," he said.

He also told Jones he would look into the possibility of installing a guard rail along the curve to prevent further incidents.

The board also announced a change in the date for its next scheduled meeting. The change, from March 24 to March 25, was necessitated because the township's annual budget hearing will be held after the regular meeting.

In other actions, the township board:
—Authorized Harold Davis, township supervisor, to call for bids for chemicals for mosquito spray.
—Authorized Davis to request bids for a rabies control vehicle.

Woman attacked

A 20-year-old woman who resides in the 2300 block of Washington Avenue told police that a man grabbed her in front of her apartment about 2 a.m. Friday and dragged her behind a bush where he attempted to assault her.

She said she got out of a woman friend's car on East 24th Street near her apartment and was walking toward the door when she noticed a man on the front lawn.

He walked up to her, put his hand around her mouth, knocked her down and dragged her behind a bush, where he attempted to remove some of her clothing.

He fled south on Washington Avenue when she screamed loudly. Neighbors came to her aid and called police.

She described her assailant as 30 to 35 years old, about 5 feet, 11 inches tall, weighing more than 200 pounds, having short light-colored hair, balding and having odd-looking eyes.

MAN IS ARRESTED

Larry D. Warden, 27, of 1704 Cleveland Blvd., was arrested during a disturbance at his home at 9 p.m. Thursday on a complaint by his wife, Tina, alleging battery. She alleged he argued with her and then beat her with his fists. She had red marks on her face, officers said.

HIDDEN FROM VIEW? The Taco Bell Restaurant, 3681 Nameoki Road, is barely visible, at the present time, to southbound motorists, as is evident in this photo taken Thursday. A truck trailer allegedly owned by the Ross Construction Co. has been parked next to the Mexican food restaurant several months. It is on Ross property, but attempts have been made to have the trailer moved. The Granite City Inspection Department has sent a request asking that the derelict trailer be moved; the department asserted that the trailer is without license plates and is in apparent violation of city ordinances. No response has been received by the department about movement of the trailer.

Near accident with squad car leads to arrest

Edward A. Dellamano, 23, of 2324 E. 25th St., was arrested in the 2400 block of Washington Avenue at 2:45 a.m. Sunday and was charged with reckless driving, illegal transportation of alcohol and driving on an expired driver's license after his northbound auto nearly struck a southbound Granite City police car head-on, officers alleged.

The policeman driving the squad car alleged Dellamano's auto came north in the southbound lane of the 2300 block of Washington Avenue at a high rate of speed and swerved right only about five yards in front of the squad car, narrowly avoiding a head-on crash.

Two squad cars stopped the vehicle at East 25th Street and Washington Avenue and alleged finding an open bottle of gin in the car. Dellamano was taken to the Granite City Jail and was held.

ASSAULT CHARGED
Howard L. Wallace, 31, of 2516 Revere's Route, was arrested at his home at 8:15 p.m. Thursday and charged with assault after he allegedly pushed Granite City Police Sergeant Roy Koberna and then clenched a fist and threatened to strike him. He was restrained by officers and was jailed. Koberna and other officers were attempting to quell a family disturbance when the alleged assault occurred, they said.

TEEN IS ARRESTED

A 15-year-old boy who allegedly was smoking a marijuana cigarette while he walked across the lot of Burger King Restaurant, 3406 Nameoki Road, was arrested by an off-duty Granite City officer working security for the restaurant at 9 p.m. Friday and the officer alleged finding a plastic bag of marijuana and two small white tabs with green specks on them in the boy's clothing. The tabs are to be sent to the state laboratory, since they resemble a type of amphetamine, or "speed." The teen, who resides in the 2400 block of East 24th Street, was released pending the laboratory results.

Community Heights Church revival

Evangelist Ken Krivohlavek, Springfield, Mo., is scheduled to begin a "Bible Deliverance" revival campaign at Community Heights Assembly of God Church, Faith and Buxton avenues, on March 23 through March 30.

According to the Rev. Jeff Smith, pastor of the host church, the evangelist's ministry emphasizes the biblical promises of healing and strength for the human spirit, mind, and body. He said that the evangelist's ministry includes prayer for the sick and that many people have been healed through prayer and faith in bible deliverance campaigns.

Meetings will be held nightly at 7:30, with the exception of Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Also, there will be no service Saturday night.

The Rev. Krivohlavek preached his first sermon two weeks after his conversion at the age of 16. A 1962 graduate of Central Bible College, Springfield, Mo., he served pastorate in Missouri, Nebraska, and Idaho before entering evangelistic ministry exclusively in early 1967. He is married and has two children.

The evangelist is the author of three books: "Love, Courtship, and Marriage," "Christian Marriage Adjustments," and "Desire Spiritual Gifts." The public is invited to attend the revival services, the Rev. Jeff Smith said, and to request the prayers of the evangelist and the congregation on behalf of any need.

Hobo supper and dance for seniors

All senior citizens residing in Granite City are invited to attend a hobo sack supper and dance on Wednesday, March 26, according to an announcement by Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City Township supervisor.

Each one attending is to bring a sack supper, tin pan or plate and plastic tableware for the 5:30 p.m. event, the supervisor added. Hagnauer said a country western band, provided by the Musicians Local 717, will provide music for dancing from 8 to 10 p.m.

There will be three buses available to provide transportation to senior residents. Those needing a ride is advised to call 877-8584 no later than March 25, Hagnauer noted.

Kenneth Fowler, 35, dies

Kenneth Fowler, 35, of 725 Twenty-seventh Place, ill for three years, died at 4:45 p.m. Thursday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was a patient for six hours. He was a lifelong resident of Granite City and was a member of the Second Baptist Church. Mr. Fowler also belonged to the Jaycees and served with the National Guard from 1966 to 1972.

Mr. Fowler was employed as a locomotive mechanic at the Granite City Steel Blast Furnace department for 15 years.

What Is A Trust?

This series of short articles is presented by the Trust Department, First Granite City National Bank, to better inform you about this important subject, and to dispel the mystique and wide-spread misunderstanding that surrounds it. Subsequent brief articles over the next few weeks will provide more details and insight into various types of trusts. Watch for them.

The Revocable Living Trust

A revocable living trust is created by an agreement executed during your lifetime and becomes immediately effective. As its name implies, it may be freely altered, amended, or even completely revoked at any time. Unlike the irrevocable trust, the revocable trust will save neither income taxes nor estate taxes. Why, then, should it be used?

1. Personal protection. No one can foretell the future or be sure that some unforeseen accident, illness or affliction may not make it impossible to handle even routine business matters. Instead of imposing these burdens on members of the family, a trustee can be authorized to pay not only hospital and doctor bills but also the normal expenses of everyday living, in addition to the management of assets. Such foresight may also eliminate the necessity for appointment of a conservator with its attendant costs and restrictions.

2. Simplification of probate. A living trust, in addition to its lifetime advantages, eliminates the need for a testamentary trust. Property placed in a living trust does not become a part of the probate estate, hence probate proceedings are simplified and expenses minimized. Also, since the living trust is in actual existence at your death, income and principal payments can be made immediately to family members or other named beneficiaries without the delays usual with probate.

3. Investment supervision. The intelligent investment of substantial sums can become an arduous task. The need for skilled professional assistance is most likely to become apparent upon the acquisition of substantial funds through retirement, inheritance, or the sale of a business. Professional investment service is available through banks and other sources. However, such arrangements terminate upon death or legal incompetency while the revocable living trust is not affected by such events.

4. Investment participation. Although many persons lack the necessary time or inclination to manage their own portfolios, they may still wish to participate in investment decisions. Because of the great flexibility which can be written into the provisions of the revocable trust, any degree of investment participation may be provided—anywhere from the right to direct the trustee to a mere retention of the right to approve all investments.

What is a trust? We hope we've stripped some of the mystery from this not-so-simple question. If you should have additional questions, talk to your attorney and both of you are invited to visit us. We'll be glad to help.

And please remember: These short articles are offered only as a non-technical guideline to the question of trusts. They are not intended to be used as legal advice. That is the job of your own attorney.

For 14 years I have served as an Associate Trial Judge, hearing a variety of cases, including criminal, damage, and divorce. I feel I have done a good job as an Associate Judge and believe I would be an effective Circuit Judge. Therefore, I am a candidate for Circuit Judge, the next step above Associate Judge in the judicial system.

In the case of People vs. David Gray, the defendant was found guilty of rape, armed robbery and attempted murder and sentenced to 60 years. Gray filed an appeal with the Appellate Court, contesting my imposition of the maximum 60 year sentence. Under Illinois law, the maximum sentence for rape is 30 years; however, if the Judge is convinced that the crime is of a brutal nature, a maximum of 60 years may be imposed. The Appellate Court affirmed the 60 year sentence, including all my rulings.

Among my supporters are George J. Moran, recently retired Judge of the Appellate Court, Fred P. Schuman, former Chief Judge of the Circuit Court, and many lawyers and friends. If you wish to check on my qualifications, please call any lawyer or any judge in your area. You can also ask Emil Toffant, Sheriff of Madison County, who strongly endorses me.

I am opposed by an individual whose practice has been confined to the trial of damage suits, who has no prior judicial experience and whose practice has been confined to one area of the law.

I hope you cast your ballot for me in the Primary Election to be held on March 18, 1980.

Andy Matoesian

P.S. There are eight Circuit Judges in this Circuit, which consists of Madison and Bond Counties. There is no Circuit Judge now living in Granite City, Madison or Venice, yet these cities represent the bulk of the votes for the Democratic Party. If I am not elected, the Tri City area will be without a Circuit Judge. Does this situation make good sense politically, geographically or from the standpoint of good judicial management?

Venice Township studies competing revenue plans

About 20 Venice Township residents and officials attended a public hearing Thursday evening in the township office on proposed uses for the town's federal revenue sharing funds in the 1980-81 fiscal year.

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols and Aldermen George Lewis and John Ervin attended and requested $15,000 of the township's revenue funds for the purchase of a payloader for the Venice street department.

Supervisor Christ Pashoff said funds available are limited, but the request will be considered along with an earlier request from Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk for $15,000 for trash containers.

The township has only $288 cash on hand in the revenue sharing fund and expects to receive about $27,000 during the remainder of the fiscal year, Pashoff said. Some of that money must be used for maintaining township buildings, and more is needed to pay students who are employed by the township as part-time secretaries under the work-study program, he added.

Residents of the Benjamin addition asked the town board to consider appropriating revenue sharing funds for better streets in their subdivision and officials of the Venice library asked for $1,500 for salaries and materials.

Pashoff also said at least $5,000 is needed to continue the health program to purchase eyeglasses for senior citizens and the needy.

About $2,000 is needed to continue to provide transportation for senior citizens and the township already has committed $15,000 to pay the electricity and light rental for the new street lights in Eagle Park Acres and the Benjamin Addition.

Pashoff indicated the board will give serious consideration to all of the requests, but said it seems unlikely that sufficient funds can be found to meet the requests from the cities of Madison and Venice.

Areas now being studied for revenue sharing funds include parks and recreation, sanitation, tap-on fees or plastic pipe for persons who will have to tap onto the new sanitary sewers, and other projects.

Arrest 3 St. Louisans

Three St. Louis residents were arrested after several items were stolen from stores in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center at 3:50 p.m. Saturday.

Employees of one store told police the occupants of a white Chrysler were arrested after allegedly shoplifted from a store and the car was in the parking lot driving toward West Pontoon Road.

An officer in a squad car chased the Chrysler on West Pontoon Road (Old Route 3), where he stopped the vehicle.

Inside the car, he alleged finding two electric carving knives from Central Hardware worth $29, four pairs of vice-grips from K-Mart worth $23, a $13 ham and two Polish sausages worth $5, both from Kroger, and several other items.

In POST 4 YEARS James Counts has been Democratic precinct committeeman in Nameok Precinct Four during the past four years. It was incorrectly reported last week that Homer Goodman, a candidate for the County Board, had been committeeman since 1966.

GC crimes down 21%

Major crimes in Granite City were down 21 percent last month compared to February 1979, according to the monthly report issued Friday by Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer.

He noted there were 119 major cases reported last month, a decline from 152 cases in February 1979.

Crime was down in four major categories, comparing the two months, including auto theft cases. Car thefts were down 56 percent, from 16 cases in February 1979 to seven cases last month.

Other decreases were shown in assault, down 27 percent, from 22 cases to 16; burglary, down 23 percent, from 30 cases to 23; and auto burglaries, down 31 percent, from 29 cases to 20.

The number of cases was the same for the two months for homicide and rape, zero; robbery with three each month, and larceny, with 44 cases each month.

None of the major crime categories showed increases.

The number of cases cleared by arrests remained about the same in both months, as 46 major crimes were cleared by arrest last month, down one from 47 cases in February 1979. The number of cases of all types cleared by arrest, 78 last month, was up two percent from the 76 in the same month of last year.

Traffic arrests were down 34 percent in February, decreasing from 402 in the same month of 1979 to 266 last month. But arrests in non-traffic cases were up 24 percent, from 104 to 129 in the same period, leaving a 22 percent reduction in all types of arrests, down from 506 in February 1979 to 395 last month.

Including multiple charges against some of those arrested, the total number of charges filed last month, 469, was down 14 percent from the 539 charges filed in February 1979.

Thus far this year, 1,010 charges have been filed against 878 persons. Accidents were down 16 percent last month from the previous February. A total of 150 accidents occurred in the city limits last month (including 30 injury accidents and 120 property damage accidents), down 16 percent from the 178 accidents in February 1979 (36 with injuries and 142 without). There were no fatal accidents either month in the city.

For the first two months of 1980, the number of accidents was down 45 percent, from 482 to 262, comparing the two Februaries. However, two fatal accidents in January 1980 put this year above the first two months of 1979, in which there were no fatal accidents.

Veizer noted the police department answered 1,343 complaints during February 1980.

WINDOW IS BROKEN
George A. Bell, 27, of 461 Division St., was arrested outside of Debbie's Lounge, 1224 Madison Ave., Madison, at 12:15 a.m. Saturday and was charged with destruction of property and disorderly conduct for allegedly breaking a large window in the front of the tavern. Police noticed a large crowd in the tavern's parking lot and checked to find Bell on the ground with blood on his hands and forearms, it was alleged. He was taken to the Madison Jail.

Oil rights sought

The Metro-East Sanitary District may get into the oil drilling field if it decides to go along with a request for mineral rights submitted to the trustees in a meeting Thursday.

The board members referred to John Sprague, attorney for the sanitary district, a request by Jim Willis of Henderson, Willis & Co., for mineral rights on the district-owned land along Pocket Road near the Cahokia race track in St. Clair County.

According to a district official, Willis told the trustees that if they would grant the drilling rights and the firm struck oil, the district would receive one-eighth of the proceeds.

Willis told the trustees that the firm has had success in drilling operations in other sites in that area.

The board also was asked Thursday to deed to the Illinois Nature Preserves Commission a 90-acre lake and 120 acres of woodland it owns as a nature preserve to assure that the land remains protected.

The lake, known as Levee Lake, is located north of Interstate 55-70 east of Illinois Route 111.

Judith L. Faulkner, a field representative of the preserve commission, told the trustees that the area is one of the most important areas of remaining Sunday habitat in the American Bottoms. She asked the sanitary district to deed the property to the state organization.

The trustees took no action in the matter during the meeting.

District trustees also were informed that the district still may be responsible for repair of a sewer break near Cahokia Mound State Park.

The district was told earlier this month that the liner would have to be repaired to accommodate anyone using the sewer line.

Faces 2 charges

Michael A. Nikonowicz, 18, of 1915 Grand Ave., was arrested at 3:50 a.m. Sunday and was charged with theft and possession of marijuana.

Officials of the 7-Eleven store, 1207 Niedringhaus Ave., alleged seeing a teen put a can of food under his jacket in the store and then pay for several items, but not the can of food.

When he left, he was confronted in the parking lot by an employee about the can, police were told. He fled on foot north in the alley. Police saw him near 20th Street and Cleveland Boulevard and alleged seeing him throw a can of food on the ground, it was alleged.

He was arrested and was returned to the store, where the employee alleged he was the one who stole the food. While he was being booked, two plastic bags of marijuana allegedly were found in his trousers.

THEFT ALLEGED

Forrest Jackson, who allegedly uses the name of Monica Fields, 19, of Brooklyn, Ill., was released on recognizance Friday afternoon after being charged with felony theft. She is alleged to have stolen a truck at the Apple Valley Motel, Mitchell, on Dec. 27, 1979. She was arrested by police at the 18th Street Laundromat and turned over to the Madison County sheriff's department at 7:25 p.m. Thursday.

One youth allegedly told police the car trunk was open when they first saw the vehicle and they noticed the purse in the trunk, so they took it. He said they drove to Route 3 and then west on Schaffer Road, where they removed the money from the purse and threw it in a field. The teen showed officers where they threw the purse and it was recovered, but some of the items could not be found, including the keys, a pocket knife and one credit card.

The teen who resides in the 3000 block of Circle Drive, admitted he had hidden money in his room and his father recovered the money and brought it to the police station. Both youths were released at midnight to their fathers on notices to appear before juvenile authorities.

leaking from breaks in the line where a village sewer line connects with a force main to the district's Lansdowne trunk line.

The board Thursday studied a proposal that would call for installation of a new 3,300-foot force main that would bypass leaks in the old line.

Russell Robinson of Granite City, president of the board, said this would not take care of any customers now hooked into the 3,000-foot trunk line east of the pumping station.

This would mean, Robinson said, that the old liner would have to be repaired to accommodate anyone using the sewer line.

Arrest 2 in purse theft from trunk

Two 16-year-old boys face possible juvenile court action in connection with the theft of a purse from a car trunk in the parking lot near Elaine Powers Figure Salon, 3625 Nameoki Road, at 8:15 p.m. Thursday.

A witness said she drove onto the lot and noticed two youths standing by a pickup truck. When her auto approached, the two got into the truck and drove away. The witness noticed the trunk of a nearby car was open.

Suspecting that the youths may have forced the trunk open, the witness followed the truck to West Pontoon Road and was able to obtain a license plate number.

She returned to Elaine Powers and had employees page the owner of the car with the trunk open in the parking lot. Alice Robinson, 2319 Bryan Ave., said the car was hers and her purse had been taken from the trunk. The purse contained $85 in cash, credit cards, keys and personal papers, she said.

A secret driver believed used to force the trunk lock was found on the ground near the trunk. Police checked the license number of the truck and found it was registered to a man residing at 700 block of North 28th Street.

Officers talked to that man and he said his 16-year-old son had the truck and was visiting a friend in the 3000 block of Circle Drive. Police checked that address and found both teens with the truck.

Explorer Post 253 learning firemanship

They are doing and learning everything about fighting fires and emergency rescue service.

They are not firemen, but Explorers in Post 253, sponsored by Granite City Firefighters Local 253, of which Capt. Edward McGovern president.

The post meets the first and third Mondays at 7 p.m. in the main fire station at 2300 Madison Ave.

The group will hold a special meeting Tuesday at the fire station to take cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) training.

Persons interested who are at least 14 and in the ninth grade are invited to visit the post and take the CPR training, according to EMT George Andrews.

Pipeman Keith Talley is the associate adviser to Post 253.

Future plans call for a "first nighter" program in April for prospective members.

Although the Explorers learn and do nearly everything, just short of fighting fires, they also have other activities.

Plans call for the fire explorers to do cave exploring, mountain climbing and white water canoeing.

Burglars who broke into a residence last week ransacked the dwelling, turned on water faucets and turned up the furnace thermostat.

Thursday, Lavell Glasper, 614 Jefferson Ave., said the intruder broke glass in a rear door to gain entry. Drawers were pulled out and dumped in all rooms and furniture was overturned.

The only thing taken was a new television which Glasper had purchased the day before the break-in.

Post-Stroke Club program

On Wednesday, March 26, Craig Babcock, a well-known mime-artist, will perform for the Easter Seal Society's Post-Stroke Club. The public is invited to make reservations for the program, to be held at the Westerner Club on Powder Mill Road, East Alton. Reservations can be made by phoning the Easter Seal Center (462-8897) or by writing the Society at P.O. Box 219, 756 Central Ave., Alton.

Many people had the opportunity to see Babcock when he performed in the local area last fall. His return is presented by the Alton Area Affiliate Artists Committee. The program is free to all because the costs involved have been underwritten by the Olin Corp. Charitable Trust.

Babcock will introduce the art of "mime," or silent acting, through a format known as the "informance," an informal, informative performance. This technique allows the artist to develop a close relationship with the audience.

The program will begin at 1 p.m. and everyone will be welcome to attend, especially recovering stroke victims and their families. This regular meeting of the Post-Stroke Club will additionally provide the public with information about the other activities of the Easter Seal Society.

For the past several years, the Post-Stroke Club has provided social outlets for stroke victims and supportive services for the families. Many activities of the club are sustained by the Easter Seal Auxiliary, which will also provide refreshments at the Craig Babcock show.

The Southwestern Illinois Easter Seal Society serves Madison County and ten other counties.

LET'S TELL THE TRUTH ABOUT THE STATE'S ATTORNEY'S RACE IN MADISON COUNTY

1. A State's Attorney ought to try cases and ought to be ready, willing and able to make the final decision of whether to try any case or not.

That's What He's Elected To Do...
That's What He's Paid To Do...
That's Where The Buck Stops!

2. But, the incumbent Byron hasn't prosecuted a case in over 5 years . . . he hasn't been making the decisions.
3. And Bill Haine has NEVER prosecuted a criminal case and has only limited experience, over three years or so, as an Assistant Public Defender . . . Can he make the decisions? This office is too important a position to begin on-the-job training.
4. DICK ALLEN HAS 16 YEARS EXPERIENCE in criminal trial work, both as a Prosecutor and as a Defender . . . He is a tough veteran of the Criminal Court scene . . . DICK ALLEN can make the tough decisions. He's ready, willing and able to prosecute the cases and be YOUR STATE'S ATTORNEY!

Youth for Elderly troops will work at senior citizens' homes

The Youth Division of the Madison County Office for Manpower Development is announcing the beginning of a new program, Youth for Elderly Services, (YES). Funding for the program is through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA), sponsored by the Madison County Board. The YES program will employ economically disadvantaged youths and college students to serve Madison County senior citizens on a fixed income. The youths will be placed in four-person YES troops with a college student supervisor, and will service a designated geographic area. These troops will provide yard maintenance, brush clearing, outdoor window washing, general clean-up and garden work for senior citizen residents. The OMD office is working in close cooperation with the following senior service agencies which will serve as the sole referral source for "YES Request for Service" forms:

The Madison County Senior Citizens' Services on MacArthur Boulevard in Alton.

The Granite City Senior Services on Delmar Avenue in Granite City.

And the Senior Citizens' Service Center on Main Street in Edwardsville.

The Madison County Office of Manpower Development will not accept referrals from other than these agencies.

The YES program will initiate operations in the first week of April under the supervision of OMD Youth Work Adviser Mark Somma and Assistant Youth Adviser Cynthia Hagler. Further information can be obtained from the senior service organizations mentioned.

Raymond W. Manwarren (LaRouche), Lloyd Miso (LaRouche), Vern L. Middleton (LaRouche), Littleton Uetz (Brown), Sally Silven Biarkis (Brown), Reavis Moore (Brown), Wendy Cournil (Brown) and Michael Ware (Brown).

Running for the three alternates are Carol A. Kops (Kennedy), Frank J. Fuzessery (Kennedy), Norma Mendoza (Kennedy), Riley L. Owens III (Carter), Janet Kuehn (Carter) and Woodrow "Woody" Moad (Carter).

There is a three-way race near the top of the ballot for nomination as congressman of the 23rd District. Incumbent Cong. Melvin Price is seeking renomination and the other two Democratic candidates are Vic Darnell and Sam P. Drenovae.

Seeking renomination as state representatives in the 56th district are incumbents Sam Wolf and Jim McPike. Since two candidates are nominated on the Democratic ticket, they are without opposition.

In the races for county offices, Incumbent Circuit Clerk Willard W. Portell is unopposed. Two other candidates for county posts will be nominated without opposition—Arthur Pete Fields, candidate for county auditor, and Mrs. Dallas Burke, incumbent coroner.

Ronald P. Lucas, incumbent recorder of deeds, is opposed in his bid for renomination by David A. Knoblauch.

Three candidates are in the field for nomination as Madison County state's attorney—incumbent State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron, Dick Allen and William R. Haine.

A four-way race is in progress in the Democratic party to fill a Fifth District Appellate Court judge vacancy created by the retirement of Edward C. Eberspacher, while only one candidate is bidding for nomination to the appellate judgeship vacancy caused by the retirement of George A. Moran—Moses W. Harrison.

Candidates seeking the Eberspacher vacancy are Robert Mays, Paul P. "Press" Waller, Horace L. Calvo and Ronald A. Niemann. A. Andreas Matosian and Charles W. Chapman are seeking nomination as circuit judge to fill a vacancy caused by appointment of William Beatty as a federal judge.

On the GOP ballot, eight candidates are seeking nomination in the presidential campaign—V.A. Kelley, Ronald Reagan, John B. Anderson, Howard H. Baker Jr., George Bush, John B. Connally, Philip L. Crane and Ronald Dell.

For nomination as U.S. senator, Republican candidates are Dick Carver, David C. O'Neal and William J. Scott.

Seeking nomination as candidate for Congress are Phil Montavo and Ronald L. Davinroy.

Eleven candidates are running in the 23rd Congressional district for three positions as delegates to the GOP national nominating convention.

The candidates are Wilson H. West, Hugh Enyart, Kenneth Fox, Gladys Lauerman, Charlotte Longwish, Frank L.

Planigan, Robert "Bob" Glenn, Lorraine G. Wire, Don W. Weber, Everett G. Steele and Celeste M. Stiehl.

Running on the GOP ballot for three alternate delegate posts are Rosalee Cavatito, Marvin Wright, Leo L. Craig Jr., Donald E. Weder, Donald Melhorn, H. Frank Holman, Erwin G. Plesge, James E. Crain and Sybil H. Bellis.

Incumbent State Rep. Everett G. Steele is without opposition in his bid for renomination as representative. Only one Republican candidate is on the ballot for nomination to county offices. Don W. Weber has filed as a nomination. There are no candidates listed on the ballot for nomination as circuit clerk, recorder of deeds, auditor or coroner. These nominations may be determined by write-in votes.

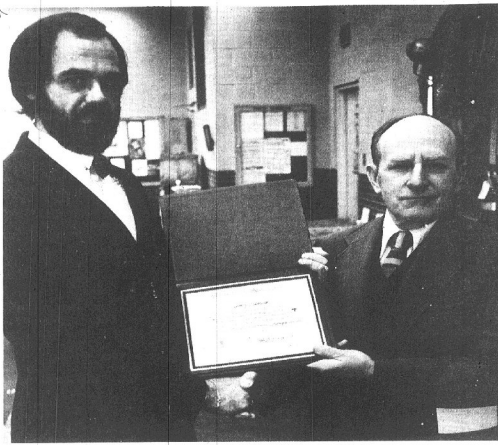

There are no candidates on the GOP ballot in nominations for either of the appellate judgeship posts and none for the nomination of a judge for the Third Judicial Circuit.

Candidates for election to the Madison County regional board of the Madison County trustees are Bill Keller and William S. Freeman. Joseph W. Higgins is unopposed for an unexpired term on the board of school trustees.

The school trustees are elected rather than nominated in the primary, and since that election is non-partisan, the same candidates are listed on both the Democratic and Republican ballots.

There is no opposition in the school trustee balloting.

Quad-City area voters will ballot tomorrow in 37 precincts in Granite City, 12 in Nameoki Township, 11 in Venice Township and seven in Chouteau Township.

POSTAL RETIREE IS HONORED. Anthony J. Simurda, right, is presented a service award and congratulated by Granite City Postmaster Jack Wilkins Friday morning. Simurda is retiring after 18 years of service at the local postal service and 20 years of military service in the Navy. He retired in 1962. He and his wife, Olga, reside at 3402 Village Lane.

$15,000 fire damage

Fire at 12:25 p.m. Saturday caused an estimated $15,000 damage to the home of James Pope, 2620 Hodges Ave. Children playing with matches were suspected of starting the fire, which gutted the upstairs bedrooms and a storage area.

The owner of the house is Ed Hawk, fireman said. They fought the blaze for one hour and 20 minutes.

Damage was estimated at $1,000 to the house and $4,000 to its contents.

Mrs. Laurene (Jones) Hatcher, 85, of Colonial Haven Nursing Home, died at 7:56 p.m. Thursday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

She was born in Carlyle, Ill., and had resided in East St. Louis prior to moving to the area seven years ago.

Mrs. Hatcher had been ill for a year and was hospitalized for three days.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Fred (Joan) Orr, Granite City; one sister, Mrs. Cornelia Snyder, St. Louis; and one grandchild.

Funeral services will be held Saturday. Details are given in the obituary column.

The group will review and then develop a strategy to implement a five-year plan for delivery of mental health services in Madison County.

The plan was developed by the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency.

The plan is geared to make mental health services more available, accessible, acceptable, continuous and of a quality nature at a reasonable price, Moors said.

There will be a report from the Health Education Task Force, established to develop and carry out a model health education curriculum program for several pilot schools in Madison County, and a follow-up report on an inventory of health services for Madison County.

VEHICLE HITS BUS

A woman and a child, both from O'Fallon, were injured when their eastbound station wagon struck the rear of a Bi-State bus on Pontoon Road at Maryville Road at 6:10 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Catherine Carroll, 24, the driver of the station wagon, and Christine Murray, 1½ years old, a passenger, were taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Smoke detector may have saved 2 in fire

MINNIE MCGOVERN Dies Friday

A smoke detector in a mobile home may have saved the lives of a woman and her young child by alerting them at 10:45 a.m. Friday.

Sherry Storey, 2813 Lincoln Ave., called the Granite City fire department to report the smoke alarm in the mobile home was sounding, but she could smell no smoke and there was no evidence of a fire.

Fire trucks responded immediately and by the time they arrived, the fire had spread from the hot water heater compartment to the bathroom, destroying a clothes washer and dryer, and to a bedroom.

By the time the fire could be extinguished, it had gutted the bathroom and bedroom and there was extensive smoke and heat damage throughout the mobile home, which is owned by Lee Brooks.

The fire destroyed nearly all of the clothing Mrs. Storey and her child had. Damage was estimated at $8,000 to the mobile home and $4,000 to its contents.

Mrs. Estea Werner, 83, dies

Mrs. Estea F. (Smith) Werner, 83, of 2952 Washington Ave., ill for nine months, died at 6:10 a.m. today at The Colonades Nursing Home.

She was born Feb. 14, 1897, in St. Louis and was a lifelong resident of this area.

Mrs. Werner was a member of St. John United Church of Christ and the Afternoon Guild and Hilltoppers Club of the church.

Her husband, Fred Werner, died in 1960.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Charles (Hedy) Droege, Granite City; three sons, Walter Werner, Madison, and Perry Werner and Ed Werner, both of Granite City; 16 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Wilson contract for sewage plant

Contracts totaling $619,819 have been awarded by the Illinois Capital Development Board for construction of a sewage treatment plant at Centralia Correctional Center, according to CDB Executive Director Donald S. Glickman. Included is a general contract for $190,300 with S. M. Wilson and Co. of Granite City.

Designed by Hurst-Rosche Engineers, Inc. of Hillsboro, the plant will be able to treat 150,000 gallons of sewage each day. It will be built northwest of the 15 resident units and 12 support buildings. Construction will begin by April and will be completed in the fall.

Roofing and interior masonry work is continuing to progress on the rest of the facility, with 11 resident units expected to be under roof this month. The fence, guard towers, road grading, utilities, transformers and switchgear have been completed.

Construction is 58 percent complete at Centralia and 54 percent complete at the other new correctional facility being built at Hillsboro. Each $29 million center will accommodate 750 medium security residents.

Aid for senior citizen garden planting set

Granite City Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer is planning a garden program for Granite City senior citizens who are interested in planting a small garden in their yard which will be in conjunction with the youth workers through the Manpower program.

The boys will till the ground, plant if ask to and go back once a week and weed the garden for the seniors if they need the help.

A roto tiller has been furnished and hopefully the program can be started by March 29. These boys can only work four hours a day and since school is not out at the time the ground is ready to till and plant vegetables, they will work on Saturdays in order to get the planting done on time, Hagnauer added.

He said this program will serve two purposes, to provide jobs for boys from low income families and also help seniors who are on a fixed income, grow some of their food.

The boys will be supervised by a college student. While on the premises the workers will be covered by workmens compensation provided by the office of Manpower Development, the supervisor noted.

The ground space will be limited to a 15'x10' area, he said.

Senior citizen request for service forms can be filled out and signed in the office of Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City Township Supervisor, 2800 Delmar Ave. (Granite City Township Building). Residents may also call the supervisors' office at 877-4884 for more information, Hagnauer announced.

Final public meeting on housing Wednesday

A third public meeting on housing problems will be held by the Madison County Community Development Department at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Madison Memorial Center, Seventh Street and Lee Avenue, Madison.

The meeting will be the final one in the Quad-City area of six scheduled county-wide. The purpose of the public meetings, according to a spokesman for the community development office, is to provide Madison County residents with information on the Quad-City area of six scheduled county-wide. The purpose of the public meetings, according to a spokesman for the community development office, is to provide Madison County residents with information on the Quad-City area of six scheduled county-wide.

Attorneys representing community development and the Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Foundation will be on hand to answer questions from the audience. Referrals for legal assistance, including the concepts of prepaid legal assistance, free aid to low income residents and half-hour consultations with attorneys for small sums also will be discussed.

About 12 persons have attended each of the previous two meetings in this area. "We are hopeful there will be a bigger turnout at the meeting in Madison. We have a good program here which should be helpful to everyone who attends, whether he owns his own home or is renting," a spokesman said.

There is no cost or obligation for attending, he added.

IT'S THIS SIMPLE...

There are eight Circuit Judges in this Circuit, which consists of Madison and Bond Counties. However, there are no Circuit Judges now living in the Quad-Cities area (Granite City, Madison, Venice or Pontoon Beach), yet these cities represent the bulk of the votes for the Democratic Party. If Judge Matoesian is not elected, the Quad-Cities area will be without a Circuit Judge. Does this situation make good sense politically, geographically or from the standpoint of good judicial management?

NEW SCOUT UNIFORMS chosen by the Boy Scouts of America.

'New look' for Boy Scouts

The Boy Scouts of America are opening the decade of the '80s with a new look for its four million members. Uniforms created by designer Oscar de la Renta were unveiled last week at a special show in Dallas, Texas, near the national BSA headquarters.

De la Renta donated his talent to design brand new uniforms, intended to provide a contemporary style while maintaining a classic scout look.

Designer of a full line of clothing for men in addition to the high fashion women's wear which has brought him acclaim, de la Renta says, "We felt the uniform should meet several criteria."

"It should be suitable for strenuous activity; it should be made from an easy care fabric; and at the same time the wearer should still look like a scout."

J. Jay Cassen, national director of the BSA Supply Division, asked de la Renta to design a new uniform in response to requests for changes received from members.

Cassen says, "In addition to restyling the uniform, we also wanted to utilize fabrics that take advantage of the latest technology to provide durability and ease of care as well as good soil release properties."

After extensive research, fabrics, components and construction methods were chosen and tested to insure that they would meet exacting specifications.

Khaki tan shirts with long or short sleeves and olive drab green trousers and shorts with cargo pockets are the basic components of the Boy Scout, Explorer and male adult leader uniform.

Cub Scouts will wear similarly styled uniforms in navy blue.

New baseball style caps in appropriate colors replace the old Cub Scout, Webelos and Boy Scout visored caps. Knee socks with contrasting color cuffs complete the summer outfit.

The blouse for all women leaders, both Cub Scout and Boy Scout, is pale yellow. "We selected a soft color for the blouse that's more flattering than the old yellow," said de la Renta. Den mothers can choose a dress, skirt, slacks or shorts in navy blue; female Boy Scout leaders will wear olive drab green dress, skirt, slacks or shorts.

The new uniforms will be available in August 1980 from local scout distributors.

Chief Scout Executive J. L. Tarr and Cassen emphasize that the old uniforms were by no means obsolete, and can be worn as long as they are serviceable. The new uniform will gradually replace the old as stocks are depleted.

Children warned

Since that time, there have been two more reports of men offering children rides. At 3:20 p.m. Friday, a 10-year-old girl reported she was walking home from Marshall School and was at Wilson and Marshall avenues when a man in a large light blue car or station wagon offered her a ride home.

She and three other nearby children described the man as 40 to 45 years old, having short gray hair, about six feet tall and weighing about 200 pounds.

About the same time, a 9-year-old girl walking near Marshall School was approached by a man in an old blue or white auto that had large tail fins, and was asked if she wanted a ride home. She did not see the man, but four children nearby at the time said the man wore a dark mask.

The man involved in Wednesday's incident at Frohardt's was described as about 33 to 35 years old, six feet tall, weighing about 160 pounds and having straight blond hair and a blond mustache.

"We're doing everything we can to identify this man or these men. All the officers are well aware of the situation and they have their orders to watch the schools when everyone is released each afternoon," a detective commented.

J. C. Crimi dies at 56

Joseph Charles Crimi, 56, of the 1600 block of Delmar Ave., died Friday at St. Mary's Medical Center, Richmond Heights, Mo.

He was a self employed salesman and a former St. Louis resident.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Virginia M. Crimi; children, Mrs. Angie Lucas, Vincent Joseph Crimi, Joseph Charles Crimi Jr., Patricia and Tommy Crimi; a sister, Mrs. Antonette Spatafora; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Tuesday, March 18, at St. Francis Cabrini Church, St. Louis. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, St. Louis.

Arraign Arlin Davis

By RICK PEARSON
A Collinsville area resident has pleaded innocent to charges of reckless homicide, driving while intoxicated and driving on a revoked permit in connection with a New Year's Eve accident which killed three Granite City residents.

Arlin Davis, 50, of 144 Holiday Mobile Homes, made the plea before Madison County Associate Circuit Judge John Day in formal arraignment proceedings Friday morning.

Davis' trial by jury was set by Day for April 7. Davis is currently being held in the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville in lieu of $100,000 bond.

He is being represented by the Granite City law firm of Gitchoff and Wallace. Davis had previously been convicted of a DWI before. Another charge of DWI pending against him in Collinsville was consolidated into the felony charges he is now facing.

Davis had pleaded guilty March 8, 1979 to a charge of DWI in Collinsville. The penalty called for an automatic suspension of his driver's license.

Davis allegedly was driving on a restricted permit, issued by the secretary of state's office for travel to and from work and for performance of "necessary household duties" when the Dec. 31 accident occurred.

Killed in the accident were Larry Lehman, 42, and his two daughters, Nicole, 5, and Stacy, 1, all of Granite City. Lehman's wife, Beverly, was seriously injured in the accident.

According to Illinois state police, the accident occurred as Davis was headed westbound on State Aid 35 about 1½ miles west of Illinois 157 when the car crossed the center line and collided head-on with Mr. Lehman's car.

Davis is being tried on three charges of reckless homicide, one count of DWI, and one count of driving on a revoked permit.

Maximum penalty for conviction of the reckless homicide charges would be three years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

Davis formerly was an ROTC instructor in the Collinsville school district and managed Northgate Home in Collinsville for the Madison County Housing Authority for several months last year.

$7,000 burglary on 28th Street

Items valued at about $7,000 were stolen from the home of John Kellick, 728 Twenty-eighth St., between noon Saturday and 11:20 p.m. Sunday.

Kellick returned home to find a set of sliding glass doors to his home had been forced open. Missing are a $1,300 console television, a $180 stereo, a $239 portable television, $125 in change from a piggy bank, a 1977 gold Honda motorbike, a tool box and assorted tools, a $150 cutting torch, a $50 come-along and a $135 leather jacket.

Biggest N. American city, located here, had urban woes 10 centuries ago

Cahokia Mounds, the largest Indian city in North America, is also the New World's first experiment and first failure in urban living, according to anthropologist Sid Denny, who has excavated extensively in the Cahokia area the last 10 years.

A program on the topic will be presented to Granite City senior citizens April 7.

"By concentrating 40,000 people in that small area," Denny said, "the Indians may have destroyed the habitat and sources of food, and created the first problems of overpopulation, pollution and exploitation."

The site at Cahokia

Mounds may have declined simply because it became uninhabitable, Denny told a group of senior citizens attending the weekly Gerontology Program last week at SIUE.

He said it is one of the mysteries that has bothered anthropologists since they first began investigating the site in the 1920s. "We don't know where they (the natives) all came from or why they disappeared."

The SIUE associate professor's own views are based on the evidence that has been found, and not found, in the excavation of Mound 72 at Cahokia and other sites, worked by as many as eight different scientific groups.

"What you see there today is the result of 500 years of recovery," he said. "Then, everything used wood—the houses, the buildings, the fires. At its height, I doubt if a single tree was left in the immediate area. In addition, sewage disposal could have been a problem. Clearly, they didn't have any sewage treatment plants."

Denny said scientists believe smaller campsites like one found near Alton is evidence of the search for food. The smaller bands were evidently sent out in little villages to hunt deer and send the meat back to Cahokia.

"But it finally all fell apart," he said. "The natives probably decided they couldn't feed themselves at the urban center, so why should they work to feed the elite?"

"In the end, they probably just drifted away. By 1,500 A.D., nobody was left."

When Marquette came down the river in 1673, the Indians he found didn't even mention Cahokia, Denny said.

But at its height, between 900 and 1,150 A.D., Cahokia was still the largest, most important and most complex city in North America.

"And it was the largest group of natives any American ever saw north of Mexico, including Custer (Gen. George), who probably saw 10,000 Sioux gathered for a religious ceremony," Denny said.

The site is dominated by Mound 72, the largest mound in North America.

During the excavations, Denny said, archaeologists have found evidence it was actually built by carrying dirt in bushel-size baskets.

Denny showed a slide, taken of the diggings, showing the rounded, multicolored mounds of dirt, still shaped like the inverted baskets, stacked one on the other.

The complete structure is actually a pyramid with a flattened top, made with four terraces that once held sacrificial altars or temples.

"The highest terrace at the top had a temple about 100 by 200 feet across, he said.

Like the Aztec capital city of Tenochtitlan in Mexico, built of stone, Cahokia Mounds also show some evidence of planning, with a visible north-south main corridor and various geometrical lines, limited and marked by posts.

With slides of artists' drawings, Denny showed how the central city was protected by palisades, vertical lines of posts used for defense.

"Cahokia had enough posts to circle an old western fort with a three-mile perimeter," he commented.

Scientists also found a primitive calendar, dubbed Wengene after the famous Stonehenge of England.

Instead of stones, the Indians used a circle of posts with a diameter of 500 feet. From the center, certain posts point to the sun during the summer and winter solstice and at the equinox.

But, Denny said, the scientists are still working to discover the significance of the other points.

The mathematics needed for the precise spacing of the posts around the circle indicates a complex society, he said.

Like Indian cities in Mexico, Cahokia was designed with an open plaza between the main mounds, with the houses built around. Other mounds were bases for chiefs' houses or large burial sites.

Denny said anthropologists from Milwaukee decided to open Mound 72, which marked the center of the city and also held one of the posts. Inside, they found a smaller mound with a series of burials indicated a powerful leader.

Denny described what they found.

The Indian leader was buried on a platform of mussel shell beads, perhaps 35,000, along with his two wives and a number of retainers or craftsmen who were to continue to work for him in the after life.

"One was obviously the keeper of the chunky stones—the round stones with depressions on opposite sides used in a bowling-like game," Denny said. "The beads, care and labor indicated their value and the obvious wealth of the man who owned them," he said.

The scientists also found an arrow maker, probably sacrificed and buried with his employer, along with 800 beautifully made arrowheads of the highest quality found at Cahokia, he said.

"Some were made of black flint from Oklahoma, indicating trade."

Another man, possibly a metal worker, was buried with copper, first hammered into sheets and then rolled up and buried for future use, indicating trade with the Great Lakes region.

One grave also had two bushels of mica, a silver-like substance from North Carolina.

Buried with the man was a total of 52 or 53 women, all 18 to 25 years old, and all evidently sacrificed by strangulation.

The women were the producers in the society, Denny explained, suggesting further wealth.

Next to the women, scientists found four men, about 30 to 45 years old, without any heads or hands.

Denny said they may have been the priests who sacrificed the women and in turn were sacrificed themselves. "We just don't know exactly."

Within the mound, the scientists found a total of 250 skeletons, some buried with gulf coast marine shells, some with bone harpoon heads and others with pottery and beads. It was undoubtedly the most sophisticated site, and it was all made possible by the move to agriculture, he said.

Earlier Indian cultures, like the inhabitants of the Koster site near Kampsville, for example, were essentially hunters and food gatherers who moved seasonally with the game and the crops.

Denny said the evidence shows the Cahokia community grew its own corn, beans and squash, the same food the earlier civilizations in Mexico cultivated.

"The corn was much smaller, but the tobacco was much stronger than the modern variety," he said.

They also collected nuts and fruits and hunted, particularly deer and waterfowl. "We know they ate ducks, geese, swan, crane and other wading and swimming birds plentiful in local waterways, and some turkey. Unlike the later white trappers, the Indians almost ignored the rabbit and squirrel."

As part of one summer's work, Denny and his students helped rebuild samples of the type of pole housing the Indians used at Cahokia.

They started with support poles anchored in the ground and tied crosspoles to the frame with willow strips. The entire domeshaped structure was covered with tied bundles of prairie grass or cattails.

From personal experience, Denny said, he can testify that the houses were pleasantly cool in the heat of the Illinois summer, but he suspects that the cooling braces turned to cold drafts during the winter.

The intriguing parts about Cahokia Mounds are the obvious similarity to the pyramids, the planned city idea, the crops and the human sacrifices seen in the Indian cultures of Mexico and Peru, Denny said.

Some scientists use that as evidence to suggest Cahokia represents a migration of those earlier peoples to Illinois, but the SIUE anthropologist disagrees.

"I think there was an exchange of ideas, but not people. If they came from Mexico, we should find something, either distinctive art or tools, stamped 'made in Mexico.' So far, we haven't."

The people were known as the Mississippians and they failed, but Cahokia is still the single most important archaeological site in the United States because "it is the only city we have."

The story of the Cahokia civilization and the prehistory of the local area, including color slides of the diggings and a display of museum artifacts, will be presented at area senior citizens' centers under a grant by the Illinois Humanities Council through the Office of Continuing Education at SIUE, the Cahokia Archaeological Society, a chapter of the Illinois Association for the Advancement of Archaeology, and the Metro-East Institute for Lifetime Learning.

The program is free and is scheduled from 1 to 2:30 p.m. today at Edwardsville; March 24 at Belleville; from 10 to 11:30 a.m. April 7 at Granite City; and from 12:30 to 2 p.m. April 15 at Hartford, April 21 at Alton and April 28 at Worden.

Instruction on home repairs

The Metro-East Institute of Lifetime Learning and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will present a six-week course on home repairs for Quad-City residents, 55 and older.

The class will meet Tuesday mornings from 10 to 11:30 a.m. April 7 at the Tri-City Area YMCA in Granite City, beginning March 25. Fred Lewis will teach the class, which costs $1 for the entire six-week session.

In this basic training course, emphasis will be on simple occupant repairs, with introduction to hand tools, energy conservation repairs, insulation, electricity, plumbing, heating and carpentry.

For more information, or to register, residents may call Lucy Tush, the program director, at 878-7200.

TERRELL AT LIFE INSURANCE SEMINAR

Bill H. Terrell, general agent in Granite City for the Franklin Life Insurance Co., attended an Advanced Agency Building Seminar at the Franklin Life home office in Springfield, Ill. He was one of 36 of the company's leading sales managers invited to take part in the three-day seminar.

Included in the program was an in-depth study of agency management, training and recruiting tools. Guest instructor for the seminar was Donald E. George, regional manager in Minneapolis and the recipient of the company's "Associate of the Year" award for 1979.

His wife, Frances, their two children, Mrs. Larry Jacobs and Joseph Edward Franko and a large contingent of his fellow-workers assembled in the Motor Pool building to bid adieu to Franko.

Colonel Booker T. McManus, deputy commander of the U.S. Army Troop Support and Aviation Materiel Readiness Command (TSARC), St. Louis, presented a Certificate of Retirement to Franko, and a Certificate of Appreciation to Mrs. Franko.

SLASC Commander Major John W. Browne Jr., also presented a Certificate of Achievement to Franko.

Franko Lane in Mitchell is named after Franko's father, the honored noted. The retirement ceremony concluded with a cake and coffee farewell party. The Frankos intend to spend their retirement days in extensive traveling, it was announced.

Bethel 43 holds past honored queens night

Bethel 43 of the International Order of Job's Daughters honored past queens of the local Bethel at a meeting held at the Masonic Temple, last week. Honored Queen Lea Ann Baker introduced the past queens that were in attendance. Past queens and the year they served were: Mrs. Bella (Blankenship) Kreher, 1973; and Mrs. Joy (Pope) Casaccia, 1974. Both are also majority members of Bethel 43.

Gena Fox, junior past queen was also introduced and was a guest in the "cast" for the evening. Theresa Abrams, past queen and chaplain of Bethel 84, Springfield, was escorted and introduced.

Grand officers of Illinois presented were: Rhonda Baker, grand representative to the state of California, Bethel 1182 and treasurer of Bethel 43; Martin Love, grand inner guard and past associate guardian of Bethel 43; Mrs. Marjorie Kemmerling, grand guide; Paul Shaffer, grand senior custodian and associate Bethel guardian, Bethel 18, Riverside.

Others escorted and introduced included: Mrs. Rebecca Slate, Bethel guardian and Ralph Baker, associate Bethel guardian of Bethel 43.

A majority ceremony was performed by Queen Lea Ann along with her officers for Mary Jane Johnston who was the candidate to receive the degree work. During the ceremony, she received symbolic flowers of purple and white and a sprig of fern. After the ceremony, she was presented with a certificate indicating that she was now a majority member of Bethel 43.

Upcoming events announced were: Bonds for Braces in Collinsville, Bethel 42, today; Edwardsville guest night March 19; forming of the living cross at the Gabriel Shrine 78 Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem at the Masonic Temple March 22; initiation practice at the queen's house, March 23; and choir practice at Mrs. Fran Holt's home March 24 for those planning to attend grand session.

A special tribute to the founder of Job's Daughters, Mrs. T. Wead Mick was given by all of the members conducted by the queen, Gena Fox, was the narrator for the ceremony.

Jewelry presentation was given to Gena Fox for being Bethel 43's guest in the "cast" and to Mrs. Slate, who was presented a bouquet of 14 carnations symbolizing the 14 queens that she had since she came to Bethel 43.

Sherry Hancock was prom for the evening serving as first messenger. After the meeting, refreshments were served in the dining room that was decorated in Job's Daughters colors, purple and white. Favors were felt crowns and scrolls of a list of the past queens of Bethel 43 and a poem written about past queens by Mrs. Charlotte Root, guardian Director of Music of Bethel 43.

The next meeting will be March 25. Initiation and inspection will be held. There are 14 girls scheduled to be initiated at this time. Plans are also being made to have a luncheon and fashion show on April 19, it was announced.

It's that time again. Tax time. Hardly ever a refund due, and even then the returns can be a hassle. One of the things that might make this year a little easier is to start earlier than in years past. Begin gathering the records now, especially if you plan to itemize your deductions.

Follow Schedule A of form 1040 and sort all records from 1979 which pertain to deductions into categories listed on the form. If you do this now you should have ample time to request copies of bills or invoices you might need prior to filing.

If you sold assets last year such as stocks or real estate, you'll have some to locate the records of the transactions which should include the price and date of sale. If you've moved during the year or made certain energy-saving home improvements, you will need additional records for deductions or tax credits.

By starting now, you can be thorough and un-rushed in preparing your return. And you can enjoy that once-a-year sigh of relief before April 15th. You Can BANK On It!

Mrs. Hulda Davis chapter president

Chapter KU, P.E.O. Sisterhood, elected 1980-81 officers at a meeting held last week in the home of Mrs. Frank Kraus, 2585 Spalding Ave.

Those to serve for the forthcoming year are: Mrs. Hulda Davis, president; Mrs. Kraus, vice-president; Mrs. Ruth Ann Barrels, recording secretary; Mrs. Ruth McCarty, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Eunice Witter, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Hemphill, Chaplain, and Mrs. Ila Maxton, guard.

An installation ceremony followed with Mrs. Elizabeth Rea serving as installing officer.

Mrs. Kraus and Mrs. Davis were named as a delegate and alternate delegate to the Illinois State Convention set for June 4-6 in Springfield, Ill.

Others attending the evening meeting were Mesdames JoAnn Burcky, Fay Carlisle, Bessie Coolidge, Velma Gruen, Bonnie Karandjeff, Evelyn Maxwell and Beth Spengler.

Auxiliary plans CPR classes

At the Granite City Eagles Auxiliary meeting last week, details were given concerning cardio-pulmonary resuscitation classes.

The classes will begin March 24 at 6 p.m. at the Eagles' home, 2585 Madison Ave. Classes are open to the public and those wishing to attend are being asked to call 876-8226 to register.

It was noted that the Eagles will begin having weekly barbeques on April 5. The Auxiliary will also sponsor a country store, selling miscellaneous items. A memorial service will be held at the first auxiliary meeting in April to honor all deceased members since its organization.

A report was given on the corned beef and cabbage dinner which was held Saturday in celebration of St. Patrick's Day.

A pollack will be held March 29 at 6:30 p.m., it was noted.

Lola Barylske and Norma Hemken won prizes. Mary Havron served a luncheon.

Miss Karen Gott and Robert Bosworth marry

Miss Karen Fay Gott became the bride of Robert Allen Bosworth March 8 in an evening ceremony at her home, 1608 Seventh St., Madison.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Peggy Miller, 2407 E. 24th St. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bosworth, reside at 1885 Second St., Madison.

Judge William Johnson performed the ceremony at 7 p.m.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Susan Bridgeman. The groom chose Gary Dooley to serve as best man.

The bride appeared in a formal length blue gown accented with blue satin streamers. She also wore a white shawl and she carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations.

A reception was held at Madison Firemen's Hall. After a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Madison.

The bride attended Granite City Senior High School and is now employed at 18th Street Lounge.

Her husband graduated from Madison High School and is employed at Brady Jordan Engineers in Madison. He also is a volunteer for the Madison Fire Department.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT BOSWORTH, who were united in marriage March 8 in the home of the bride, the former Miss Karen Gott. She is the daughter of Mrs. Peggy Miller of Granite City.

Mr., Mrs. Stromlund to mark 45th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Tollof Stromlund, 2706 Nameoki Road, will celebrate their 45th wedding anniversary on Sunday, March 23, in the Fellowship Hall of St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road.

The honorees will receive guests from 2 to 4 p.m. at the open house reception planned by their children.

Hosting the social event are the guests of honor son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Dolores) Zeugin, 3121 Edgewood Ave., and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leon (Patricia) Stromlund, 1922 Nero Drive, St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Stromlund also have four grandchildren, Amy and Todd Stromlund and Eric and Kathy Zeugin.

Mr. Stromlund and his wife, the former Marie Ehlert, were married on March 29, 1935, in the home of Judge William Curtis. Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Gus Rogers, a brother-in-law and sister of Mrs. Stromlund.

A 15-year employee of Community Coach Bus Co., Mr. Stromlund also worked as sexton at St. John United Church of Christ until his retirement in 1970.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Stromlund are members of St. John United Church of Christ.

Garden Club hears basketball program

Mrs. Betty King hosted the all-day meeting of the Thorngate Garden Club last week. Yearbooks were prepared under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Delpo.

It was noted that the club has several civic projects planned for the coming month.

Mrs. Delpo presented a program on basketball. She and her husband have traveled extensively in the Orient and she showed hats woven from straw from Hong Kong.

She presented pictures from China and various types of Indian baskets. Mrs. Delpo spoke of the history and the high prices of antique baskets. Purses from the Cayman Islands, Barbados Islands, West Indies, Jamaica, Portugal and the Philippines were also displayed.

Mrs. Delpo noted that baskets have many uses as well as being decorative. A Mexican luncheon was served by the hostess. She served tacos in decorated baskets, which served as the favors.

Others attending were Enid Bolin, Jean Bethal, June Lux, Wanda Kincaid, June Markham, Beula Miller, Helen Polley, Pat Polley and Clara Schillinger. Mrs. Helen Polley will host the next meeting, it was noted.

Club donates to memorial

Members of the Hilltoppers Club of St. John United Church of Christ agreed to donate to the Mrs. Vern Schillinger memorial fund during a monthly meeting of the club, last week.

A 12 noon potluck dinner preceded the business session and was attended by 23 members.

Oliver Pfeiffer, president, presided and the Rev. Dr. Kenneth Netz opened the program with prayer followed by the pledge of allegiance recited in unison by the group.

Reports were submitted by Mrs. Helen Pfeiffer, secretary and Mrs. Lillian Adams, treasurer.

Dr. Netz presented a program on John Bowling tracing his biography and noted he wrote the song entitled, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory."

During the meeting it was announced that Etta Locklear donated get well cards and a birthday card was sent to Annie Meyer who will mark her 97th birthday this month.

Mrs. Genevieve McComis was welcomed as a guest and new member.

In closing members repeated the Lord's Prayer, followed by a social hour with games. Mrs. Emma Schoen won the afternoon award.

John Wofford marks 80th year

John Mina Wofford, 2219 Dewey Ave., was guest of honor at a surprise birthday party held at Bill Burns Restaurant last week in observance of his 80th birthday.

Those attending were his children: Mrs. Helen Warfield, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leo Wofford, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wofford.

Also attending were Greg Wofford, Geoff Wofford, Melia and David Rosenberg, Nancy Ashby, Mr. and Mrs.

Scouting council offers sessions

River Bluffs Girl Scout Council will offer training for new and experienced leaders in March and April. Basic trainings are for new leaders. "Careers to Explore" workshops are for experienced Brownie and Junior leaders looking for new program materials.

Troop camp training courses are for leaders wishing to use the council-owned camp sites or equipment. Prospective leaders who are interested in working with a troop this fall are also welcome to attend training sessions. Trainings are offered both day and night at a variety of sites and run during March and April. Those interested may contact the council office to register for a course (288-7286, 254-5983, 345-1606, 632-6404), it was announced.

Leadership for the 80's—An Action Plan of Hardhitting Solutions

• PRIORITY PROSECUTION

Mobilizing Police and Prosecutors in a concerted and well coordinated assault on the vital nerve centers of crime, emphasizing:

• CRIME PROFITERS:

These are the powerful executives of "Crime, Inc." They manage the burglary industry, stolen property syndicates and arson combined.

• DRUG DEALERS:

Drugs—the life blood of crime. They keep it constantly pumping through the crime system, stimulating and nourishing an enormous part of our criminal activity.

• HIGH VISIBILITY DETERRENCE:

For violent, unorganized street terrorism: Robbery, burglary, rape, murder. Broadcast to the guerrillas of crime that the price they will pay is going up for turning our streets into combat zones.

☆ Swift and conspicuous justice

☆ Stern sentences

• POLICE-PROSECUTOR TEAMWORK:

Intensified coordination in intelligence gathering and the investigation of "Target" criminals. With local prosecutors to bring justice to the people.

• PRISON—NOT PROBATION

No probation for home invasions or house burglary
No probation for attacks on the elderly

• CONCERN FOR THE FORGOTTEN VICTIM:

Procedures to minimize the loss in time and wages for the citizen who gets involved. Personalize the system and make it responsive to his or her needs by making the criminal pay for the crime.

• CITIZEN INVOLVEMENT:

Low enforcement's most valuable asset. An aggressive campaign towards community participation.

University tuition increase voted

A tuition increase of $48 per academic year for resident students at Southern Illinois University, effective in the fall term, was approved here Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees.

In addition, tuition increases of $81 per academic year for resident dental students, effective in the fall quarter, and $110 per academic year for resident medical students, effective with the 1980 summer session, were approved.

Students in the SIU system who are non-residents of Illinois are charged three times the resident rate.

Proposals for the increases were considered by the board at its February meeting. University officers said the proposals were the result of Illinois Board of Higher Education budget recommendations for the 1980-81 fiscal year, approved by the IBHE in January.

IBHE recommendations for public universities provide for an increase of $68 million, of which about $7.5 million is to be provided through tuition increases. Accordingly, more than $1.5 million of additional tuition income must be generated by the SIU system.

In December, the IBHE approved a new tuition policy which establishes the 1979-80 tuition rates as the standard for the future, with adjustments for inflationary cost increases to be made annually to maintain the level of tuition.

The policy states specifically: "The level of tuition charged in years following 1979-80 should be based on the current level, adjusted for changes in costs based upon relevant economic indicators, including the Higher Education Price Index."

The policy also stipulates that undergraduate tuition rates for Illinois residents should not exceed one-third of instructional costs in the respective university systems.

The policy recommends that whenever undergraduate tuition in public universities is increased, the appropriation for Illinois State Scholarship Commission monetary awards should be increased by the amount necessary to offset the impact of the tuition increase on financially needy students.

Current undergraduate tuition rates for Illinois residents per academic year are: SIU at Edwardsville — $567; SIUE School of Dental Medicine — $1,905; SIU at Carbondale — $574; SIUC School of Medicine — $1,390.

After the increases become effective, the rates will be: SIUE — $615; SIUC School of Dental Medicine — $1,116; SIUC — $622; SIUC School of Medicine — $1,500.

According to information provided to the board, tuition and required fees at SIU have increased by 43.4 percent since 1971-72, while the Consumer Price Index for the same time increased by 94 percent.

The increase in general revenue appropriations for higher education in Illinois during this time period was 70 percent.

Teachers will convene

More than 3,500 teachers from public and non-public schools in Madison County will convene on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Friday, March 21, to participate in the county-wide Teachers' Institute.

Regional Superintendent of schools Harold E. "Gene" Briggs said two nationally-known speakers will be featured in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center during the 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. program.

Special events at this year's institute will include an 11:45 a.m. performance by the Alton Junior High School Jazz Band under the direction of Jim Wilcox; a children's art show featuring artworks from elementary students in the region; and a Madison County teacher center display focusing on unique services the center offers to teachers.

Twenty-six diffusion project sessions are scheduled throughout the day in Building 2.

Teachers may choose from over 50 optional meetings with many of the topics presented by local educators. In addition, there will be over 50 exhibits of information and materials on new methods of teaching, books, learning tools, and audio-visual aids on both floors of the University Center.

The planning committee for the institute, consisting of representatives from every school district in the county, sought "a quality program meeting the diverse needs of every certified educator in Madison County." Those serving on the planning committee included Hattie Utley, Venice; Helen Cook, Judith Hagler and John Sikora, Granite City; Nick Bogovich, Madison; Gene Ladendorff and Sister Jane Boss, non-public schools; Dr. Stefan Krchniak and Juditha Gosch, SIUE; Troy Cole, Illinois State Board of Education; and Supt. Briggs and Ray Dragich of the regional superintendent of schools office.

All certified teachers, whether or not employed, are entitled to attend. All non-public school teachers are invited and guests are welcome, Briggs said.

Public schools in Madison County and some of the non-public schools will be closed on Friday so that the teachers may attend.

The featured speaker at 8:30 a.m. Friday will be Ambrose E. Brazelton, who recently retired as chief, Division of Urban Education, Ohio Department of Education.

In his address, "Walk the Plank!", Brazelton will emphasize teacher attitudes and behaviors as they affect children.

He has authored several publications on motivational techniques used by teachers. He is a former teacher, college professor and administrator with the Ohio Department of Education. Arthur J. Holst will appear at 10:10 a.m., speaking on "The Challenge of a Pro."

AMBROSE BRAZELTON

Noted for humor and "practical idealism," he seeks to inspire listeners to set new and better goals no matter what their work may be.

On the football field, Holst is known as "No. 33," an NFL official who served as line judge for Super Bowl games VI and XII and has officiated at NFL games for

A. J. HOLST

14 years. His background includes business, sports, and civic affairs, and he has been a soldier and a salesman. He is president of his own company, a graduate of Knox College and the University of Illinois. Holst served as Administrator of the Forest Park Foundation of Peoria for 12 years.

Theater, dance center planned

Project approval for construction of a performance facility for student and community use was granted Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees.

Funding, not to exceed $350,000, will be from Student Welfare and Recreation Funds (SWRF) all businesses and individuals who participated in the fund raising event were extended appreciation for their assistance, during the session.

Mike Vincent gave a talk on YMCA soccer leagues and Mrs. Hagnauer discussed the Madison County Girls' Soccer Association.

Winners of the membership drive held in February were members of Joyce Lignoul's second grade class.

The theater performance facility, in which student-initiated theater and dance programs will be produced and performed, is one of the projects proposed for SWRF funding in Capital Development Projects Plans for SWRF and Athletic Funds which were approved by the board July 13, 1978.

Currently, such productions are staged in Theater 28, a converted quonset hut.

University officers said the quonset building, located on North Drive, has shortcomings, including poor insulation, insufficient utility service, insufficient staging and production capabilities, and inadequate seating. In addition, it is difficult to maintain and keep in good repair, they said.

The board authorized proceedings with completion of plans, specifications and details of the project for future consideration by the board.

THEFT FROM SCHOOL. A 16-millimeter motion picture projector was stolen from Madison Junior High School, it was discovered at 2:40 p.m. Friday. The value of the projector is not known.

Bill Sternberg is new president. Election of officers took place at the Emerson School PTA meeting held last week and Bill Sternberg was re-elected as president.

Other officers include: Paula Hagnauer, vice-president; Sharon Melton, secretary; and Carolyn Funkhouser, treasurer.

Cub Scout Pack 2 presented the colors for the evening.

Topics discussed included an auction that was held in early the project for future consideration by the board.

Ice game will help campaign

Prevention of birth defects — that will be the real name of the game at the March of Dimes Metro East Night at the Cheekertowne being held on Saturday, March 29, at 8 p.m. The St. Louis ice hockey Blues will host the New York Rangers.

A portion of proceeds from ticket sales will benefit March of Dimes programs to fight birth defects.

"Every other minute a child is born with a birth defect. That's more than a quarter-million infants who come into the world each year with mental or physical defects," a spokesman said.

"The real winner of the Metro East Night will be future generations who will have an increased chance of being born free of the threat of birth defects."

Tickets are on sale at the March of Dimes office, 100 N. Main, Edwardsville, 622-0888.

Tickets also may be purchased through Margie Wright, fund raising chairman, 212 Dogwood Lane, Fairview Heights, 397-1238, or Lydia Cruz, 128 St. Clair Drive, Fairview Heights, 398-2181.

The tickets are available in three reserved seating areas for a cost of $10, $7.50 or $6. The March of Dimes will receive $2.50 for each $10 or $7.50 ticket sold and $2 for each $6 ticket sold. In addition, each ticket purchaser will receive a photopack courtesy of the Blues.

If 500 or more tickets are sold for this special event, Brent Bicket, poster child, will be spotlighted during pre-game festivities on the arena ice.

The March of Dimes is a voluntary health organization receiving funds through the efforts of volunteers.

Vital statistics show birth decline. The number of births and marriages during the month of February are less than those during February of 1979, according to a monthly report of vital statistics issued by County Clerk Evelyn M. Bowles.

Two-hundred and sixty-one children were born last month, 127 males and 134 females, compared to February of last year, which listed 143 males and 142 females for a total of 285. In each month, there were two sets of twins born.

The number of marriages in February of 1979 was 103, compared to 155 for last month.

Deaths increased slightly, according to the report, with 208 last month, an increase of 4 compared to 184 in February 1979.

4th choral fest given

The Granite City School District presented its fourth annual All-City Choral Festival on Saturday in the South High memorial gymnasium. Robert Fuller was the guest conductor.

The evening concert included performances by the elementary, junior high and high school choruses.

The program was coordinated by Joseph Owens, the district's music consultant, and Mrs. Pat Michaeloff, vocal music specialist.

Women of the Well is circle topic

Truth Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Maxene Hacke, 28 River Drive, with Mrs. Sharon Ellebracht, co-leader, presiding.

Mrs. Wanda Groothuis presented the lesson from Response Magazine entitled, "The Women and The Well—by Ellen Clark. The lesson called to mind Jesus' encounter with the Samaritan woman at Jacob's well, but actually dealt with a project dedicated to helping change the lives of 60,000 prostitutes of Lima, Peru; helping them to have a sense of self-worth, helping them to find employment alternatives. Sister Rose Dominic Trappaso began this movement in Peru in 1975, the International Year of Women. The program in addition to the above, helps care for the children of these women, who are the most victimized and abandoned women in Lima, Peru. Mrs. Groothuis added.

Mrs. Groothuis gave a report of the executive meeting reminding those in attendance of events forthcoming at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church. On March 19, the combined churches of St. Peter's Evangelical, First Presbyterian and Niedringhaus will meet for the Lenten Service at Niedringhaus.

March 21, Paul Mabrey will bring his vocal group in concert at Niedringhaus at 7:30 p.m., and on March 30, Niedringhaus will host the Methodist Churches of the Tri-City area for Sunday evening services. The women were also reminded of the layette gifts to be given through Church Women United, and the annual Ladies' Banquet and Style Show.

Mrs. Ellebracht presented the "Least Coin" lesson for the evening. Refreshments were served by the hostesses to Mesdames Ruby Corbitt, Pauline Cox, Sharon Ellebracht, Dorothy Frohardt, Wanda Groothuis, Evelyn Hamrick, Jan Livingston, Grace Paddock, Gladys Wallace and Betty Williams. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Betty Williams in April.

Junior Service plans egg hunt

The Granite City Junior Service will host an Easter egg hunt which will be held April 5. Plans were announced at a board meeting last week of the group. Faith Holsinger hosted the meeting.

Upcoming events discussed included the Madison County Junior Service Federation, installation banquet, mother-daughter banquet and a progressive dinner.

Vice-president Betty Nighossian presided over the meeting. Brenda Weckman, secretary, read the minutes and the roll call. Others present included Beverly King, Flora Mae Lensing, Donna Polivick, Pam Reed, Sue Riess and Donna Sprankle.

Sorority party set for Saturday

The Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority is planning a combination Valentine's Day and St. Patrick's Day party, to take place Saturday, March 23, in the home of member Jan Monaghan.

A rummage sale is planned for Saturday, April 26, to be held in the home of Carolyn Walsh, 2400 State St. President Judy Bartel opened the meeting and the group recited the club ritual. Cookie White read the minutes, which were approved.

Those present included: Anastasia Elieff, Janet Hans, Carol Cathey, Terri Davis, Marilyn Lumpkins, B.J. Jones, Vicki Thomas, Candy Thompson, Barbara Hente and Dorothy Simpson.

Mrs. Monaghan will host the March 24 meeting at which the election of officers and pledge ritual for Janet Hans will take place.

VANDALISM TO HOUSE
Deloris McDonald of 504 Fourth St., Venice, reported at 9:50 p.m. Sunday that while she was hanging curtains at her home, a rock was thrown threw a window of her residence.

RETIREE FEDERAL EMPLOYEES MEET

The National Association of Retired Federal Employees, Chapter 1087, held its monthly meeting last week at Charlie's Restaurant. President, E. J. Erney presided.

The meeting opened with prayer by Chaplain Theyer Erney, followed by the pledge to the flag. Adrian Copeland gave a legislative report and a vote was taken to send Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Erney as delegates to the state convention on May 6, 7 and 8 at Moline.

Mrs. Pauline Weir was named as chairman to revise bylaws of the chapter. Mrs. Mamie Vallow received a prize. Mary Essenpries received a hand-made Afghan given by Mrs. Vallow.

"Happy Birthday" was sung to Melba Fricker and Kenneth Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Stanek were welcomed as new members. Lunch was served to 63.

TOUR BY BROWNIES

Brownie Troop 772 of Mitchell School toured Baskin-Robbins last week. The girls were shown around the shop and each got to make her own clown cone and decorate it.

Attending were Jennifer Winters, Jennifer Hicks, Tiffany Hicks, Cassie Easley, Dawn Rapp, Robin Younger, Carla Gothin, Tracy Lowe, Melissa King, Lea Ann Cook, Monica Haxton, Tammy Doss, Kristi Morris, Tiffany Winters and Angie Brown. Leaders are Connie Winters and Donna Brown.

Navy Mothers make donations

Six donations were made last week at the meeting of the Quad-City Navy Mothers Club 859.

Donations of $25 were made to Beaufort Naval Hospital in South Carolina, Camp LeJune in North Carolina, Camp Pendleton and Naval Medical Center, both in California, Memphis Naval Hospital and Bethesda Naval Hospital in Maryland.

A nominating committee to select a slate of officers was chosen. Members are Margaret Minzes, Edna Miller, Irma Manning, Stella Millegard and Jean Toller. The slate of officers will be announced at the first meeting in April, it was noted.

Stella Miller won the mystery package and other prizes went to Della Rabb and Margaret Minzes. The club will hold a social meeting March 27 at the VFW hall, it was announced.

Mrs. Julia Portell birthday honoree

Mrs. Julia Portell was guest of honor at a meeting of the Bunko-Ettes Club, Thursday evening, in observance of her birthday.

She received a gift and decorated cake from the group. Those winning prizes in the evening games were Mesdames Leona Delaloye, Angie Buehler, Helen Lipchik, Julia Portell and the hostess, Mrs. Dorothy Barnett.

Mrs. Barnett served refreshments to those named and to Mesdames Rose Druhe, Ruth Partney and May Ebling.

BURGLARY ON DEWEY
A color television set and about 55 tape recordings were stolen during a burglary at the apartment of Mary Sweeney, 2108a Dewey Ave., between 5:15 and 8:35 p.m. Thursday. A window in a door was broken to gain entry. The loss was estimated at $830. It was the second burglary recently of the apartment.

Garden club discusses annual district meeting

Cloverview Garden Club met last week at the Grand Cafe to discuss the annual District 5 meeting and luncheon, which will be held March 27.

The program topic for the event, which will be held in Belleville, is "Flowers for the Home-Exhibits of Horticulture and Artistic Design."

It was noted that the club is participating in donations for the "Exhibition 50," in memory of the beginning of garden clubs.

Tentative plans were made for a field trip, a tea and programs relating to wild flowers.

Mrs. William Miller spoke on the subject of wild flowers in Missouri and the Quad-Cities area.

Mrs. John Lentz presented a reading on rare orchids. Also attending were Mesdames Charles Gandoria, George Knapp, Leo Roman, Eldon Meikamp, Robert McCauley and Clarence Etheridge.

Lesche elects new officers

Mrs. Mary Ann Cochran was elected president of the Lesche Literary Club at a meeting hosted by Mrs. Muriel Veith, 2723 Harvey Place, last week.

Those to serve with Mrs. Cochran for the ensuing year include Mrs. Marie Gordon, vice-president; Mrs. Connie Strotheide, secretary and Mrs. Verna Stuart, treasurer.

Mrs. Peggy Stevens, the retiring president, presided. Mrs. Gordon led the pledge of allegiance and Mrs. Marie Klein recited the club code.

Program chairman, Mrs. Cochran, introduced Mrs. Catherine Schnipper who reviewed the book "Coma" by Robin Cook.

To close the meeting each member gave a favorite home remedy. The hostess served a dessert course preceding the session to those mentioned and to Mesdames Faith Holsinger, Burdine Holtzsch, Hannah Kleinschmidt, Mary Miller, Geneva Butler and Ruth Ann Bartels. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Stuart.

Judy Glass attends hairdresser seminar

Judy Glass, an employee of Super Hair beauty salon, has returned from a day long seminar held in Kokomo, Ind.

Bill Wright, owner of two beauty culture schools, five salons and creator of new hair styles and teacher, served as the instructor.

He also was on the U.S. Olympic hairdresser team and is internationally known for the latest hair techniques, the local hairdresser noted.

Classes involved basics on career cuts, perms, coloring and all phases of design, Miss Jolene Prewett, owner of the Super Hair shop announced.

Mrs. Myrtle Bruns entertains club
Mrs. Myrtle Bruns entertained the Thursday Evening Bunko Club in her home, 2549 Washington Ave., Thursday.

She awarded prizes to those holding high scores including Mesdames Angie Hartman, Celeste Johnson, Alice Koesterer, Luella Proppes.

A dessert course was served by the hostess to the prize winners and to Mesdames Grace Parnley, Lorine Menzies and Velma Radefeld. Mrs. Proppes invited the group to her home, 2826 Iowa St., for the next gathering.

A global lifeboat—energy and the Third World

By KENNETH E. BOULDING

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the ninth in a series of 15 articles exploring "Energy and the Way We Live." In this article, Kenneth E. Boulding of the University of Colorado at Boulder considers the energy outlook for underdeveloped nations.

This series, written for COURSE BY NEWSPAPER, a program of University Extension, University of California, San Diego, was funded by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, with supplemental funding from the National Science Foundation.

Copyright (c) 1980 by the Regents of the University of California.

At least half the world's population lives in poverty in rural areas in the tropical belt (and in China).

Their lives have been largely untouched by science-based technology or by use of fossil fuel resources, which elsewhere have led to the luxuries of our "modern" world.

Now that these resources are becoming increasingly scarce and expensive, are these so-called "Third World" countries condemned forever to stay in prehistoric poverty? Have they come too late to the feast of geologically stored energy and materials? The probability is not comfortably high. Reducing this probability, through action and moral persuasion, must be one of our highest priorities.

ENERGY AND TECHNOLOGY. The last 200 years have seen perhaps the greatest change in human history. This change has resulted from two closely related processes.

One is the rise of science, which led to a great expansion of knowledge and its application in science-based technology.

The other is the discovery of fossil fuels—coal, oil and natural gas—and of uranium.

Without either of these developments, the world of today would be strikingly different. Without science-based technology, we would not have steel-framed skyscrapers, automobiles, fertilizers, artificial fibers and plastics, airplanes—these of what we think of as the "modern world."

But even with the rise of science, if there had been no coal, oil or natural gas, there would probably be no automobiles or airplanes, though there might be electricity, radios and television on a small scale with a few wood-burning power stations.

And without science, we could not have utilized oil and natural gas, though we might have had primitive coal-burning steam engines. The issues of energy and science are thus intertwined.

RICH GET RICHER. One by-product of the change brought about by science and energy is that the world has become much more unequal in riches because of the unequal spread of the change itself.

The change to a science-based technology took place quite rapidly in most areas of North America, Europe and Japan between 1860 and the 1930s, with the rise of the electrical and chemical industries and of science-based agriculture.

In the tropics, however, the change took place very slowly and is still largely

FUEL FOR INDIANS. Cow dung, shaped into patties for use as fuel, dries in the sun in confined to bigger cities. The rural people there have been affected only slightly by the great revolution of science-based technology, which means they are still very poor.

Even worse, where such technology has affected them, it may have made the poor poorer by cheapening the few commodities they have to sell and by disrupting the "folk" cultures in which they live, making them desire expensive goods and destroying native craft industries.

GRIM PROSPECTS.

What then of the future? Will a science-based technology spread throughout the tropical countries, releasing hundreds of millions of people from agriculture to produce the conveniences of modern world?

The spread of scientific knowledge and know-how is not too difficult, if political and cultural obstacles do not bar the way.

The crucial questions concern energy and materials, which are the limiting factors in getting richer.

Even discounting inflation, it seems highly probable that energy and materials will become constantly more expensive in the next 100 or 200 years.

Cheap oil and natural gas will be gone, certainly in 100 years, probably in 50. Coal will last somewhat longer, but it has great disadvantages, including damage to health and the environment.

Uranium and the breeder reactor can provide electricity for the world for centuries, and with our present knowledge, nuclear energy may be the main long-run hope of the poor countries.

But it, too, has many disadvantages. It requires a high technology and an elite group to administer it; it entails small probabilities of large disasters (and even small probabilities do come to pass). And it poses grave danger of being used destructively.

New knowledge, especially of how to utilize solar energy, may make nuclear energy unnecessary, say, for the world's barest needs.

At the moment, solar electricity is very expensive. Furthermore, electricity is not fuel; it will not drive airplanes and is not much good for automobiles.

POSSIBLE SOLUTIONS. Unless, therefore, there is continued expansion and useful application of scientific knowledge, the changes of Third World nations remaining permanently disadvantaged are all too high.

The first essential for reducing this likelihood is applied research in population control.

With the 4.25 billion people now on earth, the problem of finding adequate resources is extremely difficult.

With the 8 or 10 billion people projected for the mid-21st century, the problem may be impossible.

Every dollar devoted to the military lessens the amount available to balance production with population needs.

Grants from the rich nations to the poor should be encouraged, but they alone cannot solve the problem. The only hope is a growing sense of world community, based on two competing moral arguments.

One is the notion that the world product is a "static pie," and it tries to make those who have created riches ashamed of them so they will give the poor a "fair share."

The other argument states that all humans must work together to solve the world's problems and to develop the technical competency of the poorer peoples and that is quite a different problem.

This picture, of course, is enormously oversimplified. There is no "Third World," but a great variety of countries and regions with different resources and problems.

The oil-rich but technologically poor countries may invest in technological change, giving them a permanent advantage over resource-poor countries.

Meantime, many of the really poor countries seem headed for disaster through population expansion on a very limited resource base. For them, the major emergency and crisis at present is not oil or gas, but firewood.

In the mountainous tropics, especially from Nepal to East Africa and to the Andes—forests are being cut down for firewood to supply the barest needs of an ever-expanding population.

The result is a loss of fertile land as tropical rains wash off the unprotected soils, the mountains become irretrievably barren, and the plains are silted up.

LOCAL COMPETENCE. As one flies across Hispaniola today, one sees the boundary between Haiti, in the west, and Santo Domingo as a long straight line across the island, with trees on the west side and dry barrenness on the east.

This is a symbol of a depressing principle—that it is hard to help those who do not help themselves.

Only competence and realism at the local level can save people from catastrophe, or push them over the subtle social watershed that leads to worsening.

Tragically, however, the very impact of the modern world in technology, trade, even in aid, and still more in the psychological and political remnants of imperialism, both capitalist and socialist, often impairs local competence and capacity.

Cheryl Janco is betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. George Janco of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City, are announcing the engagement of their daughter Cheryl Sue and Michael Alex Pellock.

The bride-elect is a 1975 graduate of Edwardsville High School and a 1978 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Her fiancé graduated from Edwardsville High School in 1974 and received his bachelor degree in civil engineering from SIUE in 1978.

Miss Janco is a teacher at Fairview Elementary School in Jennings, Mo., employed by the special school district in St. Louis County.

The groom-to-be is a structural design engineer for Hydro-Air Engineering, Inc., in St. Louis.

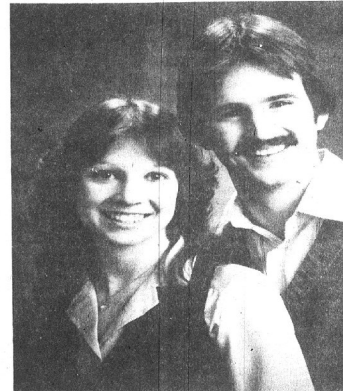

The betrothed couple and their parents are completing plans for a May wedding.

Jansens announce birth of child

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jansen, 3024 Ramona Drive, are announcing the birth of their first child, a boy, born Saturday, March 8, at Belleville Memorial Hospital. The infant has been named Justin.

Mrs. Jansen is the former Maria McGarvey.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Robinson of Granite City and Mr. and Mrs. Vance Harper of Salem, Mo. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Andy Dubish of Madison, and Mrs. Dovie McGarvey of St. Louis.

TO MARRY. Miss Cheryl Janco and Michael Pellock are planning a May wedding. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Janco of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City.

Secretaries view CPR demonstration

Members of the Tri-Cities Chapter of the National Secretaries Association enjoyed a program of the CPR, given by Gary Smith of St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He explained the six steps to follow and how the life-saving technique works. He told of personal experiences in the hospital, how important it is that the technique be applied properly, and how it might sometimes even result in a fractured rib, which he called a small price to pay for having one's life saved.

The audience watched as the signal light came on, to indicate that pressure was being applied in the right position.

The dinner meeting, held at Bill Burns' Cafeteria, was preceded by a social hour at 6 p.m. Cathy Smith, secretary at Sobel Realty, was introduced by Helen Gieszelmann, who announced that Mrs. Smith will become a member during Secretaries Week in April.

President Charisse Vunovic conducted the business meeting and reports were heard from various committee chairmen. Mrs. Gieszelmann reported on the Civic and Foundation Committees, and also on the Madison Future Secretaries Association.

It was announced that the senior girls would spend a day in the offices of St. Louis banks on Thursday, April 17. Granite City High School North and South senior PSA members will spend the day in the office on Tuesday, April 15.

Program Chairman Kathy Voegel reported on the possibility of a speaker for the April 3 meeting, who could give the members hints on how to care for the mechanical needs of their cars.

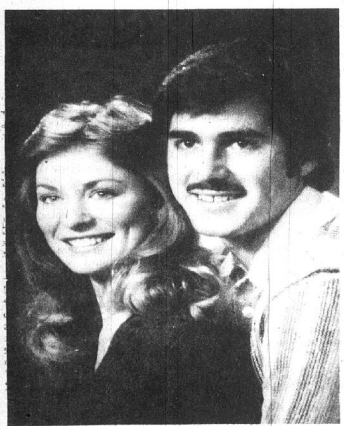

Reporting for the Retirement Center, Sunny Scruggs advised that NSA is asking for a donation to the center in the amount of each member's age. At the April meeting, a donation will be accepted from each member accordingly, with the option that she may give a dollar instead, if she desires, Mrs. Scruggs added.

Mary Gain, chairman of Secretaries Week, April 20 through April 26, spoke on the plans for the week, and received suggestions from the members. More details will be given at the next meeting.

On behalf of the nominating committee, Helen Gieszelmann announced the new slate of officers, which were: Twila Edmonds, president; Kathy Voegel, vice president; Nancy Bezan, recording secretary; Mary Gain, corresponding secretary; Jane Davis, treasurer; and Sunny Scruggs and Lou Hemming, board members at large.

Service committee for the April meeting will be Nancy Bezan and Mary Sue Harper, and they will be contacting the members to let them know where the meeting will be held, it was noted.

All local interested secretaries are invited to call membership committee chairman Helen Gieszelmann at 451-9880, if they desire to attend, the president added.

ENGAGED. Miss Debbie Grady, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grady of Granite City, will become the bride of Harvey Breckner on June 28. The wedding will take place at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Breckner-Grady engagement

The engagement and forthcoming marriage of Miss Debbie Grady and Harvey Breckner is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grady of 2727 Sunset Drive.

The prospective groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Audelle Breckner, 533 English Place.

Miss Grady graduated from Granite City High School South in 1977 and is employed at Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

Her fiancé is a 1975 graduate of North High School and a 1979 graduate of Rockhurst College in Kansas City, Mo.

He is presently a first-year dental student at Southern Illinois University School of Dentistry in Alton.

A June 28 wedding at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church is being planned.

Okawville downs Madison for third

CHAMPAIGN — The future of Madison High School's basketball program was on exhibit here Saturday night. It may have cost the Trojans third place in the Illinois State Class A State Finals, but it was on display nonetheless.

Madison coach Larry Graham, after watching his team drop a heart-breaking 57-51 decision earlier in the day to Peoria Bergan in a semifinal clash (see related story), decided to start his substitute players and didn't put in his regulars until the third quarter of the third place game at the Assembly Hall on the campus of the University of Illinois.

Okawville coach Dave Luechtefeld, however, chose to go with the lineup that had gotten his team to the "Elite Eight." The Rockets beat Madison 77-63.

Okawville ran away from the Trojans' reserves early in the game and rolled up a big lead. It was 44-25 at halftime and the Okawville fans that filled a large part of the huge arena could smell the victory.

But enter the Trojans' regulars. And bid the big deficit goodbye. Madison outscored Okawville 21-7 in the third quarter and cut the gap to 51-46. But the regulars came back out at the end of the period and the rally was gone.

"It was tempting to leave them (the regulars) in the game," said Graham. "But I told the players before the game what I was going to do and they agreed. If I had left in the regulars, we might have won the game."

Not that Graham didn't want to win. "We were here to win," he said. "I wasn't trying to show up the third-place game or anything. Unlike a lot of coaches, I like the third place game."

"I just felt I owed it to some of the kids who haven't played as much as others a chance at playing up here. It's a great experience for them. They work as hard at this as anybody else."

Okawville might have had a little added incentive to win than Madison. The Rockets were considered the "Cinderella" team of the tournament, coming into the meet from the school with the smallest enrollment (285) and not even ranked among the top 16 teams in the state in either wire service poll. And they had played top-ranked Chicago Luther South to a two-point game in the semifinals (see related story).

But there was one more incentive. He sat alongside the Okawville bench at each game in a wheel chair. His name is Mike Boesch.

The Rockets had dedicated their entire season to Boesch, according to Luechtefeld. Boesch was left paralyzed last summer after a diving accident that occurred, ironically, at a basketball camp at the University of Illinois.

"He was probably the most popular kid on the team," said Luechtefeld. "I guess we sort of played the whole season for him."

"That may have supplied that certain little extra that binds teams together."

Whatever it supplied, it proved to be enough to vault

Okawville to third place.

The Rockets were led by All-State center Gary Moeller's 35 points. Moeller, a 6'5" senior, finished as the tournament's leading scorer with a 23.3 points per game average. "He's a real good basketball player, isn't he?" said Luechtefeld with a wink and a grin. "There are a few colleges interested in him."

Two players who will play a large part in Madison's future led the Trojans in scoring. Junior Patrick Hatter, who was a second team All-Tournament selection, had 12 points, and 6'5" sophomore center Mark Zarr scored 11 points.

Luther South is new champ

CHAMPAIGN — Chicago Luther South made a bit of Illinois basketball history here Saturday night when it beat Peoria Bergan 56-51 in the championship game of the Illinois State Class A Tournament at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall.

The Braves became the second team in a row from Chicago's tough Private School League to claim the state title. Last season, New Lenox Providence of the same conference won the championship.

But the accolades belonged to Luther South Saturday night. After beating New Lenox (which had been ranked number one in the state most of the season) three times this season, the Braves wowed the crowds at the Assembly Hall with their smoothness, their height and their slam-dunks, of which there were plenty.

Luther South is perhaps the tallest Class A team ever. The Braves go 6'6", 6'7" and 6'8" across the front line and have a 6'5" guard and a 5'11" one who dunks as much as any of the tall guys. But height does not a team make. The Braves had more. They showed that Saturday night.

The Braves rallied in the closing moments of the game to edge Bergan, after the Trojans had come from behind the lay claim to the lead in the third quarter.

After grabbing an early 11-8 lead at the end of the first quarter, South saw it trimmed to 24-22 at halftime. Bergan led 40-36 at the end of the third quarter.

The Trojans had their biggest lead of the game at 42-36 early in the fourth.

But back came Luther South. The Braves got two free throws from Dave Allen to give them a 47-46 lead. Then Tony Martin scored two baskets, Pierre Cooper

Hatter named to elite squad

CHAMPAIGN — Madison's Patrick Joe Hatter, a 6'2" junior guard, was named to the Associated Press and United Press International All-State Tournament second teams here Saturday at the Illinois State Class A State Finals.

Hatter finished the two-day tournament as the fifth-leading scorer, scoring 55 points in three games, for a 18.3 points per game average. He was 20-of-42 from the field, 15-of-19 in free throws and had 26 rebounds.

He was the only Madison player named to the all-tournament squad.

Okawville's Gary Moeller, Tony Martin of champion Luther South and Peoria Bergan's Tom Gilles and Scott McCabe were unanimous all-tournament selections by both AP and UPI.

Moeller was the tournament's leading scorer with 93 points in three games for a 23.3 ppg average. He was 35-of-56 from the field, 23-of-31 from the free throw line and had 32 rebounds.

The fifth player on the AP team was Okawville substitute guard Greg Renegarbe. The spunky sophomore was the first non-starter ever selected to an all-tournament team.

UPI's fifth player named to the first team was Pierre Cooper of Luther South.

The second team AP squad included Cooper, Gibson City's Mark Knowles, Luther South's Mike Conley, Jeff Heerd of Timothy Christian and Hatter.

The UPI second five were Renegarbe, Heerd, Bob Gray of Luther South, Wayne Clark of Mount Pulaski and Hatter.

The AP team was selected by members of the news media covering the tournament. The UPI team was named by the tournament's coaches.

Four Madison seniors bring home trophy in last hurrah

CHAMPAIGN — They looked almost like midgets up against some of the taller players in the tournament, the 6'7" and 6'6" giants from Chicago Luther South and Peoria Bergan. But when they held up their fourth-place trophy during ceremonies at halftime of the championship game, Ricky Powers and Tyrone Echols were 10-feet tall.

Powers and Echols wanted more. They wanted to go home to Madison with the first place trophy. But they were lacking some hardware back nonetheless. There's always next year. And the future looks so bright for Madison, it's almost blinding.

But there will be no next year for Powers and Echols, at least not in the Trojan green and white of Madison High. You see, they are seniors. They're two of only four players Madison will lose to graduation.

Going into the tournament, the four's hopes had been high. "We've got the momentum," said senior Kerry Guest in the lockerroom at Eastern Illinois University after a thrilling overtime win over Lawrenceville Tuesday.

"We felt we could do it and now we know we can."

But there were seven other teams in the "Elite Eight" that felt they had momentum too.

Icemen cometh (doeth it all)

GC Hockey Tournament

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Jay Strotheide stood on a bench with his hand on the switch. He needed the bench to see over the boards at the Wilson Park Ice Rink in Granite City. Without it, the 10-year-old goal referee would have been unable to do his job. Strotheide controlled the red light behind the net. It was his job to turn on the light if he saw a legitimate score. So instead of stretching on his toes to see over the boards, the young man employed a bench.

In a tournament the size and scope of the one the Granite City Amateur Hockey Association put on this weekend, first you ask if someone knows the difference between a hand pass and a slap shot, then you inquire about referees. Referees, indeed warm bodies, are at a premium at 6 a.m. on a damp, windy Sunday.

Teams from Pekin, Peoria, Meramac, Decatur, Affton and Granite City converged on the Wilson Park rink over the weekend, 17 teams in all. Five divisions. Twenty games.

From 8 a.m. Saturday until 7 p.m. Sunday, they went at it.

And at 10:30 a.m. Sunday, Jay Strotheide was in place behind the goal with his hand on the switch.

His hair was matted under the cowboy hat he wore. Still wet from the effort he put forth earlier in the day when his own team, the Granite City squirts, took on Decatur in the consolation game of the squirt division.

He still had on his full hockey garb, pads and all. "When the wind blows it goes right through these," Strotheide said, shivering a little. "Sometimes the pads and all are like insulation, but when you're wet underneath, whew, it's cold."

On the ice, skaters Strotheide's own age were going at it. In fact, the day before, Strotheide had met one of the teams, Meramac, in the opening round of the tournament. As a young forward on the Meramac team raced headlong at the opposing goalie, Strotheide remembered facing him.

"That number two, he's tough," the young goal judge said. "He can score from the angle. He can be in the corner and put it in the net."

Just then the puck got loose in front of the Peoria goal. In a jumble of flying sticks and flashing skates, somehow one of the Meramac players managed to get a stick on the thing and send it skidding past the Peoria goalie.

Strotheide interrupted his running commentary long enough to flick on the red light indicating the goal. "The think you have to watch for," he said setting back down on the bench, "is if the puck goes off someone's skate or if someone pushed it in with their glove."

Apparently, he had been satisfied neither of the possibilities had occurred. The goal counted.

At the other end of the rink, behind the other goal, another ten-year-old hockey player performed the same duties. Gary Brown is a teammate of Strotheide's. In addition to his duties as goal judge, he also serves as referee on the ice. He officiated some of the games in this tournament.

"He's reffed games all over," Strotheide said. "Sometimes he'll ref guys 40 years old. He's really good."

But that's the nature of amateur hockey. The people who participate in it are jacks of all trades. In the program for the Eighth Annual Invitational Tournament, there appears an ode to hockey parents.

"You're the chauffeur in your hat, coat and palamas," it says.

Girls regional champs

EAST ST. LOUIS — The Madison High School girls basketball team won its first regional championship ever here Thursday night, downing Dupu 46-40 in the championship game of the East St. Louis Assumption Class A Regional Tournament.

This is the third year for a state series in girls basketball, but the first ever on a Class A-Class AA format for small and large schools.

Madison's Lady Trojans (11-6) will travel to Staunton Tuesday for a date with Greenville (12-5) in the Sectional Tournament at 7:30 p.m. The other schools entered at Staunton are Banker Hill (17-6) and Keanu-Alma (10-2). The winner of the Staunton Sectional will play March 24 in the Carlinville Super-Sectional against the winner of the Whitehall Sectional for the right to advance to the "Elite Eight" March 27-29 at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall.

Thursday, the Trojans led by only four at halftime, 25-21. Madison coach Carol Stearns felt it could have been more. "We had a cold stretch in the first quarter when we couldn't score," she said. "We could have been up by 12 points at the end of it, but it was still just 2-0 at that point."

In the second quarter, Madison had an eight-point lead at one time. But Dupu managed to close the gap by halftime.

The third quarter did in Dupu. Madison outscored the Trojans 11-3 to take a 36-24 lead at the end of the period. Madison was led in scoring by Nancy Mikolasz's 15 points.

Poll settled

CHAMPAIGN — The Press-Record poll of area Class A basketball teams was finally settled here Saturday night.

During the regular season, Madison, Lovejoy of Brooklyn and Okawville each shared the number one position at one time or another. But when Okawville beat Madison 77-43 for third place in the State Class A Finals, the Rockets for all intents and purposes, laid claim to the number one ranking in the St. Louis area, as far as small schools are concerned.

Lovejoy was declared ineligible for post-season play by the Illinois High School Association for a by-law violation. But it all boiled down to two teams from the same area of the state to fight it out for third place in Illinois.

Hearts romp past Mt. Vernon

WEST FRANKFORT — The Effingham Flaming Hearts rode the crest of brilliant performance by All-Stater Mitch Arnold and 72" center Uwe Blab and crushed Mount Vernon 57-39 Friday in the championship game of the West Frankfort Class AA Sectional.

Effingham, 28-1, will face East St. Louis Lincoln Tuesday in the Carbondale Super-Sectional for the right to advance to the "Elite Eight" State Finals in Champaign next weekend. Mount Vernon led 15-14 early in the second quarter before Effingham went on a scoring binge. The Hearts outscored the Rams 20-9 and never looked back. Arnold had five of those points and Blab nine.

Arnold led the Flaming Hearts in scoring with 22 points and had 18 rebounds and 10 assists. Blab finished one game with 26 points (including two slam-dunks) and had seven blocked shots. Effingham also got 18 points from Dale Grupe.

CHAMPAIGN — Good teams can make adjustments. They can beat you inside. They can beat you outside. They can beat you quickly, or they can beat you slowly.

And they can beat you at your own game.

That's what happened here Friday night when Madison upended Timothy Christian, last year's third-place finisher, 47-44 in the quarterfinals of the Illinois Class A State Basketball Tournament at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall.

And according to Madison coach Larry Graham, it was done with a mixture of "Timothy Christian basketball and Madison basketball."

"I'm proud of the boys because they were able to mix some of our style with Timothy Christian's," said Graham. "It was easier for us to slow down the tempo than it would have been to try and run with the ball."

Timothy Christian is noted for its slow, deliberate style of play. That style produced such exciting final scores as 29-19, 39-37 and 35-23 during the Trojans' regular CHAMPAIGN — Peoria Bergan isn't a Class AA school. It couldn't be in the Class A State Finals if it was. Its enrollment is 738. The cutoff for the division between large schools and small schools according to the Illinois High School Association is 750.

But enrollment is the only thing small about Bergan. The Trojans, which dropped down to Class A status this season, played a schedule this season comprised entirely of Class AA schools.

That exposure to large school competition may have been just what the doctor ordered here Saturday afternoon when Bergan put on a flurry in the third quarter and held on for dear life in defeating the Madison Trojans 57-51 in a semifinal game at the Illinois small school state tournament.

"Just too many turnovers," lamented Madison coach Larry Graham. "We had our chances. It was that third quarter that killed us." But according to Graham, it wasn't entirely Bergan's fault that his team, long the favorite to win the state title, was eliminated. "This had to have been the worst officiating I've seen at this level," he said. "If it sounds like I'm crying, I am."

But the officiating didn't beat us. But there were some traveling calls and a violation on a jump ball against us that were hard to believe."

The jump ball violation came in the third quarter when Morris Hughes was called for "violating an occupied space" on a jump ball. Hughes had streaked in front of a Bergan player after Peoria had controlled the tip, and stolen the ball. "Obviously," said Graham, "Mr. Aversman (referee James of Aurora) doesn't know the rule."

Madison went into the second half with a 27-25 lead over Peoria, but scored only six points in the third quarter while Bergan was racking up 19.

"All season long, there's usually been a part of every game we've let down. Today it was Larry Graham. We didn't want to let them win."

getting the shots. We were. They just weren't dropping."

Bergan coach Rudy Keeling beamed after the game. "Madison did about what we expected they'd do," he said. "But we handled it pretty well. Their press hurt us some, but we were able to get the ball down the floor against it."

Madison started the game looking as if nothing could stand in the way of it and the championship game. Morris Hughes broke a 4-4 tie with a layup on an out-of-bounds play under Madison's basket. Then Tyrone Echols potted in a 20 footer. Then it was Pat Hatter's turn. He got an outlet pass from Hughes after a missed Bergan shot and sped in all alone for a slam-dunk making it 10-4. A 15-footer by Hughes in the lane made it 12-4.

Madison crept back into the game, however. Going into the second quarter down 12-6, Peoria scored five unanswered points to make it 12-11 at the 6:32 mark. A 15-footer by Bergan's all-star Tom Gilles made it 27-25 at half.

Then came the crucial

the ball—that spelled defeat for the spunky Rockets.

"It's hard when you play well enough to win and don't," said Okawville coach Dave Luechtfeld. "But I will say this - I think we played about as well as we can play."

The losing coach also said, "I think we were sort of overstruck when the game started and we got down 12-4 quickly. I got mad at them (his players) and told them they could play with Luther South outside of those first few minutes. I thought we outplayed them."

After falling behind early, the Rockets managed to close the gap to 16-11 at the end of the first quarter. They trailed 28-25 at halftime and led 41-39 at the end of the third quarter.

Okawville's effort was paced by the sensational shooting performance of 39" sophomore guard Greg Renegar. The diminutive substitute popped in 18 points (including his first eight shots in a row) to get his team to the three-point halftime margin.

"He's a natural," said Luechtfeld. "He really didn't see that much action during the regular season on the varsity, even though we did use him when he needed him. But since the start of the regionals, we've used him more."

Tony Martin of Luther South was his team's leading scorer with 18.

One of those second shots will come next season.

CHAMPAIGN — On paper it was a laugh. A yawner. You know, the powerful tall team, ranked number one in the state taking on the bunch of upstarts from a place nobody ever heard of who weren't even supposed to be there.

But those are the things that upsets are made of. And Okawville's Rockets nearly pulled it off.

Going into the game as obvious underdogs to the taller (6'6", 6'7", 6'6", 6'5")

Luther South Braves, the Rockets came up inches short of pulling off one of the biggest upsets in Class A Tournament history Saturday afternoon, losing 59-57.

Friday afternoon, Luther South ran out an early large lead against Pittsfield in the quarterfinals and never looked back.

Saturday against Okawville, the Braves did the same thing in taking an early lead, then they looked back. And they looked ahead at the Rockets a few times too when Okawville came back to take the lead.

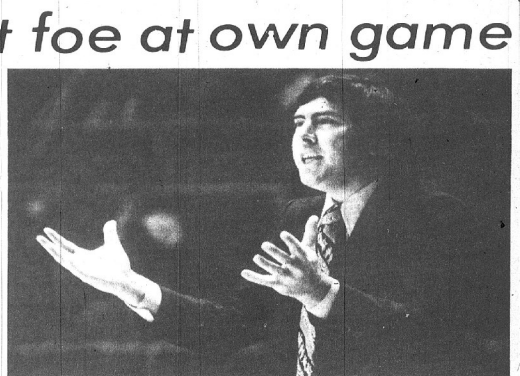

But in the end it was Luther South's taller players — and a few lucky bounces of the ball — that spelled defeat for the spunky Rockets.

"It's hard when you play well enough to win and don't," said Okawville coach Dave Luechtfeld. "But I will say this - I think we played about as well as we can play."

jump shot from the free throw line that tied the game at 38 after Timothy Christian had taken its first lead since early in the game seconds earlier. That came with 3:03 left in the game.

Then, with 2:43 showing on the clock, Hughes made both ends of a one-and-one free throw situation after he was fouled by Timothy Christian standout Jeff Heerd. He did the same thing at the 1:30 mark after he was fouled by T.C.'s Miller.

"Hughes didn't have a real good game," said Graham. "But he's still our pressure player. He's the guy we want to go to when we need two points in the clutch."

Timothy Christian coach Don Greenfield said, "I thought Larry's guys would rush things more than they did. But they didn't. When we had trouble getting the ball, to Heerd (6'7" senior center), it slowed us down a bit. Then when he did get the ball, he sort of tightened up a little and the shots didn't drop for him."

The Trojan doing most of the work on T.C.'s Heerd was senior forward Kerry Guest. "I thought Kerry did a great job on their big man," said Graham.

"After coming up here last year and getting our butts kicked (by Havana) in the first game, it feels good to win the first one," he said. "That was our goal — to win the first one. Now we have a good basketball and have a little fun doing it."

Moeller's free throws lift Rockets

Quarterfinals

CHAMPAIGN — Pressure. Some basketball players will under it. Others thrive on it. Call Gary Moeller a "thriller."

Moeller, Okawville's 6'4" center, stepped to the free throw line with two seconds left in the game and calmly finished a pair of free throws through the basket, giving his team a 55-53 victory over Mount Pulaski Friday afternoon in the Illinois State Class A Basketball Tournament at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall.

Moeller wasn't exactly the person Okawville coach Dave Luechtfeld probably would have wanted at the free throw line in a crucial situation. Even though he has become the Rockets' best offensive threat, his free throw shooting hasn't been the best this season.

"He was pretty good as a sophomore and a junior," said Luechtfeld. "It's just this year that he's fallen off. He has come in and made some big ones for us."

"He did it today." It was Mt. Pulaski that held the lead most of the game. The Hilltoppers led Okawville 19-14 at the end of the first quarter and 28-26 at halftime.

In fact, Mt. Pulaski led 51-47 with under five minutes to go. But with 2:16 remaining in the game, Okawville's Kevin Obermeier hit a short junior to tie the score at 51-51. Then sophomore Greg Renegar gave the Rockets a 53-51 lead with 1:36 on the clock. Mt. Pulaski center Wayne Clark tied it 51-51.

left. The Rockets then stalled out the remaining time until 14 seconds remained and then called for a timeout.

Moeller got the ball as planned but was fouled by Jeff Edwards (who fouled out on the play). After a Mt. Pulaski timeout, Moeller walked to the free throw line and calmly won the game.

In other quarterfinal action Friday, favored Luther South of Chicago destroyed the hopes of Pittsfield 61-38. Peoria Bergan held off Gibson City 65-55 and Madison dumped Timothy Christian 47-44 (see related story).

"You're the cheering section, and the fan club and the equipment manager." Like the mother from Peoria, who shuffled her children (a hockey player and a cheerleader) from the hockey rink even before the player could change from his multi-layered uniform. "Come on," she said, pushing one of her charges along. "Check-out time is in a half-hour."

got past the first hurdle, winning the first game at the State Finals. "That was our goal," said Madison coach Larry Graham. "Now, we want to win, of course, but we also want to have fun, because we know we have two more games to play." When Madison lost to Peoria Bergan in the semifinals Saturday afternoon, it was a hard pill for the Trojans to swallow. "We're just as good as they are," said client. "But I just didn't go our way."

Echols was called for traveling several times during the Bergan game. But most of those times his feet appeared not to move at all. Just his head or his torso. Graham called it the "worst officiating at this level" he'd ever seen.

Echols just shrugged his shoulders and said he didn't think he'd traveled.

The seniors didn't get to see very much action Saturday night in the third place game. They knew they wouldn't. Graham was going with the players who had put up a lot of practice time and not gotten to play much since the beginning of the season.

They deserved it.

Cougar wins

CHAMPAIGN—Mike Grandcolas, of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has earned the right to use his nickname, "The Greek Streak." Grandcolas, a graduate student from O'Fallon in his final year of eligibility at SIU-E, was the fastest sprinter in the state with his 6.46 seconds time in the 60-yard dash, over the weekend at the Illinois Inter-collegiate Indoor Track and Field Championships, in the Armory at the University of Illinois.

In that meet, SIU-E finished 10th overall out of a field of 18 teams competing. The Illini finished first with 156 points and seven first-place finishers.

PONDEROSA'S

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Future is bright

PAT HATTER

He's six-foot-two and he's a player.

Madison junior guard Patrick Joe Hatter has just about done it all for the Trojans basketball team the past few weeks.

Hatter was named here Saturday night to the Associated Press and United Press International All-State Tournament Teams at the Illinois Class A State Finals.

He deserved it.

It's only fitting that

Hatter be named as the Press-Record Player of the Week.

Hatter finished the State Tournament as the fifth-leading scorer. He had 13.8 points per game scoring average in the three games played in it.

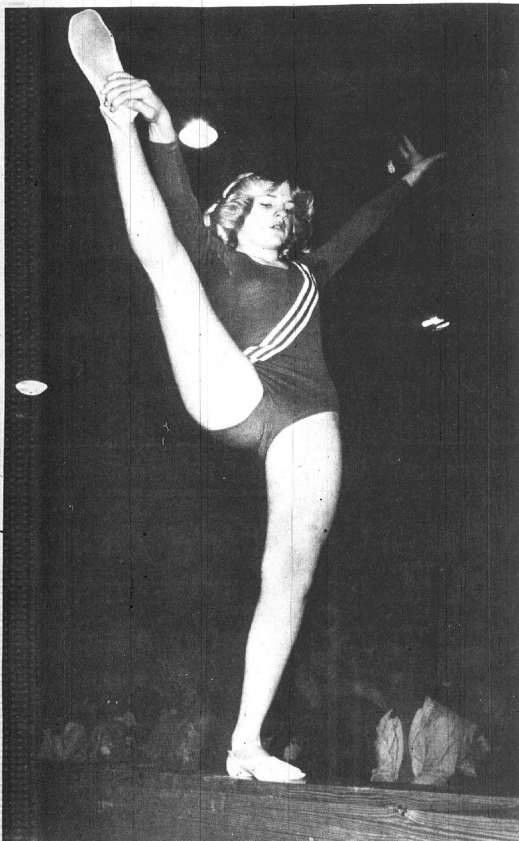

He scored six points Friday night against Chicago Timothy

Christian 14, against Peoria Bergan in the Saturday afternoon semifinals and 12 against Okawville in the third-place game.

His scoring effort against Peoria Bergan was high for his team, even though the Trojans came up on the short end of the final.

Last week against Lawrenceville in the Charleston Class A Super-Sectional at Eastern Illinois University, Hatter took things into his own hands. He single-handedly brought the Trojans back from defeat.

Hatter scored the last 11 points for Madison in regulation time, including a 25-foot jumper with seven seconds remaining that tied the score and sent the game into overtime.

Winter Carnival highlights

What has music and singing, a variety of dancing including ballet, baton twirling demonstrations, and gymnastic events—all rolled into one great evening of free entertainment? The annual Granite City Park District Winter Carnival, of course.

This year the event was attended by more than 1,200 persons, many of which were proud parents who came to see their sons and daughters perform in a variety of activities culminating a year of park district sponsored programs. The participants last week ranged in age from pre-school through high school students and all had rehearsed and practiced long and hard for just that evening.

Park Board President George Sykes welcomed the crowd of park district supporters and introduced Jack Hood, a park board commissioner, and the director of parks and recreation, Harold Brown.

The pre-school classes, bottom left photo, started the program, held in the Memorial Gymnasium on the campus of Granite City High School South, singing the "Sesame Street Song," and "I've got two." They were led in the songs by Sesame Street characters Ernie and Bert, lower right photo, played by Greg Patton and David McClain, respectively.

Mrs. Janis Patton and Mrs. Lynn McClain are the instructors of the pre-school classes for the park district.

Following the pre-schoolers, the dance classes of Mrs. Donna Davis performed several routines by various grades with a combined ballet finale, top right photo, to the song, "When you wish upon a star."

A baton twirling routine set to disco music was performed by students led by instructor Miss Barbara Brandt. The Pom-Pom Squad of GCHS South also performed routines to two tunes for the audience.

The gymnasts then took the floor. After a brief period to set up several floor mats and apparatus used for various exercises, Miss Pam Rowden, participant in the annual event for many years, was introduced as a guest performer.

Miss Rowden combined a graceful floor exercise with a demonstration of her balance beam expertise. Specialty exercises performed by several members of the advanced class included a balance beam exercise by Miss Jackie Linhart, at left, doing a one-leg stand on the four-inch beam.

Mrs. Davis is also the coordinator of the gymnastics program. Instructors include Mrs. Lynette Burnett, Mrs. Donna Lakatos, Miss Debbie Morris, Miss Patty Morris and Miss Susie Rhoades.

Beating victim to request probe of prisoner's release

The victim of a 1978 beating by a group of men in Rosewood Heights near Alton will ask the Illinois Judicial Inquiry Board to investigate the early circuit court release of Larry Hinson, an East Alton pipefitter who had been sentenced to six months in the county jail, fined $2,000 and given five years probation.

Clinton Bramlet, a Cottage Hills contractor who was hospitalized for several weeks after the beating, said that in addition to a request to the inquiry board, he plans to submit the matter to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in protest of the release.

Hinson was convicted of aggravated battery in connection with the attack on Bramlet while the contractor was working at a Rosewood Heights home Dec. 14, 1976. He appealed the conviction and his sentencing by Circuit Judge Joseph Barr to the Illinois Supreme Court, which upheld the conviction.

Judge Barr last week allowed a motion on Hinson's behalf for an early release from a jail term which Hinson began serving Feb. 1. Hinson originally was sentenced to serve two months in jail each year for three years.

State's Attorney Nicholas Byron, whose office originally had sought a prison term for Hinson, said he was surprised to learn Hinson had been released. "I didn't even know he was out," Byron said after Hinson's release.

Judge Barr said he allowed the early release after he was informed Hinson had been a model prisoner, because he already had paid the fine and because the state's attorney made no recommendation.

Byron said failure by his office to oppose Hinson's release was due to a misunderstanding. While Assistant State's Attorney Rand Hale told the court the state had no recommendation when the release motion was considered, Byron said he thought he had made himself clear to Hale that Hinson should serve the full term.

Judge Barr said his order does not affect the jail sentences of two months each beginning Feb. 1, 1981, and Feb. 1, 1982. Byron said his office will oppose any early release at those times.

SIU retirement age set at 70

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees took action here Thursday to raise the mandatory retirement age for SIU employees from 68 to 70, in conformance with state and federal regulations.

The board's Code of Policy was amended to stipulate that "all employees shall retire no later than Sept. 1 following attainment of age 70."

The change becomes effective July 1 or the day the governor files with the secretary of state the appointment of the ninth member of the new Human Rights Commission, whichever occurs first.

Establishment of the commission was authorized by the Illinois Human Rights Act, signed by the governor on Dec. 6, 1979. Among other things, the Act forbids all discrimination against persons aged 40 to 70, and under its provisions no one may be retired without the person's consent before age 70.

The amendment approved by the board also provides that deferment of retirement may be granted for one year at a time in exceptional cases and for substantial cause, upon recommendation of the president and approval of the chancellor.

Fanning was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where he was treated for cuts to his right ear and abrasions to his face. X-rays were taken and he was released. Thomas and a passenger in Fanning's auto, Jo Ann Owen, 20, of Rural Route One, Granite City, suffered minor injuries, but neither required emergency treatment.

County Board voting in four local districts

County Board members are to be nominated in Tuesday's primary balloting in four Quad-City board districts, with opposition in three of those districts.

Countywide, board members are to be nominated on Democratic and Republican ballots in 15 districts. There are 29 board districts in which 14 and 15 members are elected biennially to four-year terms.

Board memberships will be subject to election tomorrow in this area in districts 22 (Granite City), 23 (Granite City and Venice Township), 24 (Venice and Granite City) and 25 (Nameoki Township, Granite City and Collinsville).

Herbert Milton, incumbent board member in District 22, is opposed by Paul W. Kratz on the Democratic ballot.

Car hits pole; arrest driver

The auto of Anthony J. Hawkes, 34, Edwardsville, allegedly knocked down a utility pole in the 3000 block of Madison Avenue, in front of Payless Shoe Store, at 2:45 a.m. Sunday and Hawkes was charged with reckless driving and possession of marijuana.

A Madison County sheriff's deputy who arrived at the scene before Granite City officers alleged the driver got out of his car after the accident and threw something next to a parked car nearby.

Officers checked near the parked car and alleged finding a brown bag containing two plastic bags of marijuana. When Hawkes was being booked at the Granite City police station, another bag of marijuana allegedly was found in the waistband of his trousers.

Although he suffered visible injuries in the accident, police said he declined to be taken to the hospital and he was jailed.

A lineman's job is tough

A utility pole is many things.

To a housewife it's the bearer of energy for cooking and washing.

To a business it's a sentinel of productivity.

To a worker it brings a helping hand on the job.

To a hospital it's a lifeline.

To a woodpecker it's lunch.

To a lineman it's a place of business.

What a utility pole is not is a billboard.

Please do not nail or tack signs to utility poles. That makes an extra and unnecessary hazard for our linemen.

When a lineman puts a gaff into a pole, the lineman expects it to sink into wood and hold. If it hits a nail, the lineman could be in trouble.

And nails can cause cuts or scratches while the lineman is coming down the pole.

When our lineman scales a pole, it's to do the job that keeps your electric service humming. The job is tough enough.

Please don't make it any tougher!

THE FAMILY OF SALLY WINTERS wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for acts of kindness and sympathy during the illness and loss of our dear mother, mother-in-law, grandmother and great-grandmother, Special thanks to Dr. Baggot, St. Elizabeth Medical Center Staff, the Granite City Medics for their quick response and to Mr. Irwin, Mr. Besserman and Thomas Mortuary. The floral arrangement and prayers from Rev. Crigien, Baptist Church were deeply appreciated. Also, the prayers and comforting words from Rev. Crigien, Sincere thanks to Coleman Haven Nursing Home Staff and wonderful aides who loved her.

WE WISH to thank everyone for their kind expressions of sympathy shown in the loss of our loved one, MAURINE COCHRANE. Your thoughtfulness is really appreciated. Son Jack, Sister Alice Baumberger and brother Coleman, Mother Duane Taylor, 23 17

IN Memoriam 33

IN LOVING memory of STANLEY KRAKOWSKI, March 19, 1973. Sunshine passes, shadows fall, Love's remembrance outlasts all. And though the years be many or few, They are filled with remembrance, dear of you. Sadly missed by Wife Helen and Family, 23 17

IN LOVING memory of my dear sister IMOGENE YORK, March 17, 1979. Laura Mae Hawkins, 23 17

IN LOVING memory of IMOGENE YORK, who passed away March 17, 1979. Far from the noise of city streets, From pagentry and show, In ways of quietness and peace, Her life was made to flow. As mother and wife, she was a blessing and shining with love's ray. So she it was who trimmed the lamps to light the heart's highway. Her work was done, and high was o'er, Nor will the spirit roam; For she has gone to make more dear, And to place comfort in the path of Saddy missed by Husband, Children, Grandchildren and All Who Loved Her, 23 17

IN LOVING memory of MARIE SHASTID SCOTT, March 17, 1978. Sadly missed by Husband, Son, Sisters and All Who Loved Her, 23 17

85 attend Golden Agers meeting

The Golden Agers Circle Club held their monthly potluck dinner last week with 85 members and guests present at Kirkpatrick Homes recreation hall.

Hosts were Martin Schulte, Tom Crawley, Lester Thiele, Ruby Corbitt, Evelyn Davis, Caroline Lax, Edith Young, Ola Nix, Clara Earney, Jennie Moody, Helen Thiele, Loretta Wysokiel and Effie Johnson. Spring flowers adorned the tables.

A floral centerpiece donated by Willis Florists was won by Nick Nunsenling.

After dinner, games were played with prizes going to Cleveland Cox, Vi Lindner, Helen Thiele, Art Rankin, Peggy Gibbons and Leona Parente.

It was announced that a business meeting will be held March 25 at 1:30 p.m. at the Kirkpatrick Hall.

"Schroeder concluded.

"From the time the valet greets a customer at the door to park his car, through the piano bar and then the meal, served by waiters in the all new dining room, we think each customer will have an enjoyable time and a good meal and hope Alexander's will be accepted as one of Granite City's finest restaurants," Schroeder represented by Egypt, Neighborhood VI; Italy, Neighborhood IV; France, Neighborhood III; New Zealand, Neighborhood II; and the South Sea Isles, Neighborhood I.

Those interested in attending may obtain more information by calling Mary Brown at 931-4779, it was noted.

RANDALL IRWIN

Randall Irwin receives award

Randall A. Irwin of the Irwin Chapel for Funerals, has been granted the 1979 Professional Certification Award for the second consecutive year.

The Illinois Funeral Directors Association grants this award in recognition of active participation in professional education programs at the state and national level and for community service in providing educational program materials to schools, churches and civic organizations in the community.

The award also recognizes his community service and professional contributions to the association. Irwin is among the four percent of all IFDA membership to obtain the Professional Certification Award which recognizes him for his achievements during 1979.

The Illinois Funeral Directors Association, now in its 100th year of service to the Illinois community, has planned a spectrum of educational programs and civic projects by which its 800 firm and individual members may seek certification.

This year's theme, "Forever There Are New Horizons" puts emphasis on helping the people of the community meet their new horizons following a death. In keeping with this theme, Irwin intends making more materials available on understanding the grief process.

Events which led to Irwin's Award are: funeral service presentations in May 1979, concerning the counseling of families about the benefits of making pre-arrangements for the terminally ill cancer patient. Given at a public meeting, sponsored by Hospice of Madison County.

Also showing film strip on "Funeral Customs the World Over" to an Explorer Post, Optimist Club, Breakfast Kiwanis and a film on The Christian Funeral to a clergy conference.

He also has a film on Values of a Funeral presented at a career day program at School of Practical Nursing, Alton, Granite City High School, South health education class, and invited two school students, interested in the funeral profession, to the NFDA convention.

In other areas, Irwin has contributed informational material to churches on request and has participated in area-wide community programs and organizations. He holds membership in the Lions, Elks, Moose, Kiwanis, Hospice, Optimists, Jaycees, Animal Protective Association and church, and has participated in many of the clubs fund-raising projects.

The certification program is concluding its seventh consecutive year. Irwin will be further recognized at the IFDA's Centennial Convention celebration, June 24, 25 and 26, at the Prairie Capital Convention Center, Springfield, Ill.

Kahok Dancers entertain here

Cub Scout Pack 141 of Mitchell School hosted its annual blue and gold banquet at the school. The opening flag ceremony was presented by scouts for each den.

Rev. Paul Bower, pastor of Briarcliff Pentecostal Church gave the invocation, with all repeating the pledge to the flag.

Mrs. Charlene Boyd, committee chairman, introduced the guests at the main table, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Louben, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Foot, Mr. and Mrs. Art Menendez, Mrs. Diane Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Perkins and Rev. Bower.

Arthur Menendez, Mitchell principal, introduced third, fourth and fifth grade teachers, Mrs. JoAnn Wittkamp, Mrs. JoAnn Peleate, Mrs. Verna Ullman, Mrs. Dorothy Lakin, Mrs. Jane Allsup and Mrs. Nancy Barnett, special guests.

Cubmaster, Jim Richardson, introduced leaders, then presented awards to Cub Scouts, Den Mothers and committee members.

Mrs. Charlene Boyd, committee chairman, also had a birthday on blue and gold day. She was presented gifts from her children and everyone sang happy birthday to her.

Rev. Bower gave the benediction and scouts retired flags. Entertainment was provided by the Kahok Indian Dancers. On March 2 the scouts went to see the Harlem Globetrotters, it was announced.

Annual dinner of Cub Pack 22

Cub Pack 22, sponsored by Frohardt School PTA, held its blue and gold banquet at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church. Cubs Wilbert Abbott, Scott Moore, Richard Harmon, Richard Reader, Craig Sykes, and Webelos Jeff Wakeford and Jeff Motes presented the colors and the pledge of allegiance.

Pastor Louis Frick gave the invocation. Special guests were Frohardt School Principal Gary Pfroender and his son Tim.

After the dinner, the main attractions were a magic show and the awards presentation. John Apperson, a local magician, provided the entertainment.

Pack 22 leaders were presented from Cubmaster Jim Richardson, Committee Chairman Bernice Schuette, Awards Chairman and Treasurer Mike Schuette, Secretary Mary Hagen, Den Leaders Bonnie Hunter, Eleanor Frasier, Pam Winn, Assistant Den Leaders Eva Abbott and Jo Ellen Toth, and Webelos Leader John Hagen II.

For the first time Pack 22 presented certificates of appreciation for outstanding service to the Pack to three teenagers who aren't leaders, Donna Schuette, Sandra Hagen and Theresa Schuette.

The Cub Scouts who earned awards were honored. Presented with their bobcat badge were Cub Scouts Jason Wakeford, Jason McKee, Mike Frasier, Steve Toth, Harold Krohne, Eric Pomeroy, Richard Harmon, James Roberson, Ray Hensler, and Webelos Jeff Wakeford. Receiving progress toward rank were Cub Scouts Mike McConnell one bead, and Scott Moore two beads.

Jason Wakeford was presented with his wolf badge, Jimmy Modlin received both his wolf and bear badges. Earning bear badges were Cubs Rich Reader, Craig Sykes, Dennis Winn, Todd Smallie, Jerry Weibel, David Monphard, Joey Hinnen and Eric Kuehler. Receiving bear badge and one gold arrow point were Mark Hunter, Wilbert Abbott and Aaron Colp.

Webelos earning artist and sportsman activity badges and Webelos badge were John Hagen III, Jeff Motes, Greg Talley and Jeff Wakeford. Both John Jaros and Jeff Robbers earned an artist activity badge and Webelos badge. Mike Schuette Jr. received sportsman activity badge and his Webelos badge, Pat Breesee a Webelos badge.

The meeting was closed by all the Cub Scouts, including Ron Voegel and Billy Donaldson, with a special 50th anniversary closing.

'40 state basketball champs to be honored here in July

The Granite City High School basketball team that captured the state title in 1940 will be honored guests at a celebration planned for July 11, 12, and 13 by the Lincoln Place Athletic Club, according to the club president, Vasil Eftimoff. All team members have been contacted with the exception of Everett "Farmer" Daniels. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of Daniels is requested to contact the president, it was noted. Eftimoff said all those notified of the event have agreed to attend if their work schedules do not conflict.

Initial plans for the affair include an informal gathering on Friday evening with a dinner dance set for Saturday night at St. Engelbert Hall in Madison. Music for dancing will be provided by John Karoly. A motorcade traveling from South high school to Lincoln Place is scheduled for Sunday, July 13. There the streets will be block off for an ethnic picnic, featuring a wide variety of foods.

Jake Varadian is serving as chairman of the summer project and is working with 17 committee members. They have sent 500 notices to out of town people who formerly lived in this area, telling them of the program.

All Quad-City residents are invited to take part in the various activities, the president added. Eftimoff said the 1976 reunion of former residents was a successful venture and prompted the current planning.

Zoning hearing on Air Products docks

Air Products and Chemicals Inc. has announced the intended site of its proposed motor freight terminal, which will be on Route 162, west of the Lakeside Driving Range and Miniature Golf Course, in Nameoki Township.

The property will have to be rezoned from agricultural to M-2 general manufacturing district. The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals has called an on-site public hearing to study the zoning request for 10:10 a.m. Monday, March 31.

The zoning request lists Udell and Loraine Bischoff as owners of the property and Air Products as the option holder to purchase. The land extends from Route 162 on the south to the Alton & Southern Railroad tracks on the north.

Last week, the Granite City Council approved the issuance by the city of $5 million in industrial revenue bonds to help finance a $30 million expansion program by Air Products in the Quad-City area.

The project calls for two new air separation plants adjacent to the company's present plant on Monroe Street and the motor freight terminal on Route 162, to serve only the Granite City plant.

Other zoning hearings

In addition to the public hearing on the Air Products request March 31, the Zoning Board of Appeals will hold two on-site public hearings that morning on zoning requests.

The first hearing will be at 9:55 a.m. Monday, March 31, along Route 162, east of Route 111, near Elliott Lane in Nameoki Township where Leo Kamadulski is requesting rezoning for a tract of land from agricultural to R-3 single family residential zoning, and a variance to develop the land, which is within a flood hazard area.

That hearing will be followed by the Air Products hearing at 10:10 a.m.

The zoning board then will move to 306 Terry Street, Eagle Park Acres, Venice Township, for a 10:35 a.m. on-site hearing. Willie R. Foster is requesting a special use permit to place a double-wide mobile home at that location, which is zoned R-4 for single family residential use.

GOLF LEAGUE WILL ORGANIZE WEDNESDAY

An organizational meeting of the Smokey Joe's Golf League will be held Wednesday, March 19, at 7 p.m. at Smokey Joe's Tavern in Pontoon Beach. Last year's team captains, as well as other interested parties, are to attend.

League play will be on Mondays at Arlington Golf Course. Also, players may sign up now for the second annual Smokey Joe's four-man annual tournament to be held May 17 and 18 at Arlington.
